

Full Sermon Transcript: The Antichrist Revealed

April 2, 2026

Disclaimer: This transcript is computer-generated and may have mistakes or inaccuracies. Though for the most part, the software does a really good job.

I'm going to try to blow the shofar, and then we'll go in prayer. Praise Jesus.

Let's go in prayer. Lord Heavenly Father, praise your holy name. Thank you for this second day of the second parent, for double twos, for confirmations, for revelations, for corrections, for chastisement, for second chances, and third chances, and fourth chances.

Thank you for your continued mercy and help. Thank you, Father, for this message we're about to receive today.

We pray that it will help someone somewhere to grow in the truth, repent of false doctrine, see the light, be saved, delivered, receive eternal life, be part of your kingdom, your church, your people, your family.

We pray that this sermon today not be in vain, but accomplish great things for you, your kingdom, and your people.

We believe it, we accept it, we claim it, in the mighty name of Jesus, and we accept your anointing and your blessing on this message and on the rest of this service.

In Jesus' name the Church says, Amen. You may be seated.

Revelation 13, for anyone listening for the first time, we're reading from the Alpha and Omega Bible, a restoration of the Scriptures, the Holy Scriptures, the Bible, based upon older biblical manuscripts, older than what was used for other translations.

Older than what was used for King James especially, but even older than what was used for New American Standard, NIV as well.

The Alpha and Omega Bible published by I Saw The Light Ministries. In Revelation 13 today we're going to talk about the Antichrist, the Antichrist revealed.

We know that people that have followed this ministry for a while, we already know this teaching very well, but I think that you'll still be edified in it and be reminded of some things you forgot.

When I was preparing the sermon, I was reminded of some things that I had not thought about in a very long time, because we do have over 50 points, main points, of proof that Bashar Assad, the president of Syria, the ex-president of Syria, that he is the son of prediction, the man of sin, what they call the Antichrist today.

In modern vocabulary, so there's a lot of points, all kinds of evidence, and really that's 50 some groups of points.

We could really divide it up in over 100 points if we wanted to, and there's a lot of things we did not even write down, so there's definitely tons of proof.

So it's hard to remember all of it, especially when you don't have a lot of new people coming into the truth to discuss things with, you kind of forget some things.

So I think everybody will be edified today, even if you already know this truth. Revelation 13 verse 1, And the dragon stood on the sand of the seashore.

Then I saw a evil beast coming up out of the sea, having ten horns and seven heads, and on his horns ten crowns, and on his heads blasphemous names.

There's a lot here in this one verse to talk about, but we know that this is representation of the Antichrist and multiple empires, the different heads, the different horns, everything representing multiple empires that have existed in human history.

The seashore would be the Mediterranean Sea because the Bible is a Middle Eastern book with Middle Eastern people and a Middle Eastern God and a Middle Eastern Antichrist and Middle Eastern empires.

So of course it's not talking about the Pacific, the Atlantic, the Caribbean, it's talking about the Mediterranean Sea right there where Israel and Greece and Turkey and so forth is present there.

The word evil beast, all other translations, as far as I know, we're the only one that translated it as evil beast, all other ones translated as just simply beast.

But when you look at that Greek word, it is evil or wild beast, not just beast, not just any beast, but specifically one that is ferocious, wild, evil.

Coming up out of that Middle Eastern body of water representing different empires that existed in the Middle East, also represented in the statue which Daniel saw or Nebuchadnezzar saw and Daniel interpreted in Daniel 2, those empires, and on his heads blasphemous names.

When we think of names, we could think of Spanish names, Greek names, so forth, but being the Middle East, the number one language of the Middle East today in the end time, and this is talking about not 2,000 years ago, even though it's empires all the way from the time of Daniel, but when it comes to this verse, it's talking about not 3,000 and 4,000 years ago, but the empires and the Antichrist that exist in our time, our time.

This is the Book of Revelation was written for us. The Book of Revelation was not written for the time of the Babylonian Empire, the Greek Empire, and the empires of the past.

It was written for our day, our time. So the language in the Middle East today is no longer dominantly Greek, but now is dominantly Arabic, so it makes complete sense for it to be the Arabic names.

So this all leads us to really an Islamic empire in our day and time, since it would be an Arabic name for the Antichrist. Multiple names of worship and on the foreheads, on his head would not be on his ears, would not be on his neck, would not be on his nose or cheek, common sense.

On the head is the forehead, especially when you compare it to the first verse of the next chapter, Revelation 14 verse 1 of, Then I looked and behold the Lamb standing on Mount Zion and with him 144,000 having his name even the same name as the Father written on their foreheads.

So you understand Scripture by comparing Scripture. There was originally no chapter divisions, so this is very few verses.

See how many is that number, verses 18, 17 or 18, 17 between the two verses, 17 verses between those two verses, not far away, no chapter divisions originally.

That's why I divided the chapters, Revelation 14, I started in verse 2 and I moved 14 verse 1 up to chapter 13 because whoever made the chapter divisions cut it in a very wrong, very inappropriate place to cut that chapter right there. They should have put verse 1 of chapter 14 as the last verse of chapter 13 would have been better to fit the context and what's going on, help people understand better.

This is another example of how the AOB is better and helps people understand Scriptures better and more accurate in many different ways.

Now today I want to remind you of something I've not spoken in a very long time, but it's on the website and has been on the website for many years, but something that we don't speak about very much and that is this sea monster.

This creature coming up, the waters of the seven heads, if you were to describe that to somebody two and three and four thousand years ago, they would have immediately said one word.

I can't pronounce it right, but I'm sure R can. So come up here where they can hear you really well. Leviathan.

Leviathan. That word would have come to their mouth and their memory instantly because that is what they called the sea monster with seven heads that was extremely well known.

Everybody knew about the legend of the sea monster with seven heads. Everyone, everyone when this was written knew that word and knew that that particular sea monster with seven heads was 100% connected with the land that we now call Syria.

So they would have recognized it as a Syrian representation, symbolism. So when we identify the Antichrist, we should not look at Turkey, Russia, China, America, England, Mexico, but we should look at Syria with the Arabic language and the location of the sea monster of seven heads.

Very simple, very easy. You just got to know a little bit of history of how people would have thought when this was written and when they first read it, when they first read this.

Now we know that chapter two and chapter three to seven letters to the seven churches was primarily in the area that we now call Turkey.

And when all seven of those different towns in what we now call Turkey, when they received the book of Revelation and read it and came to this verse, because they would have read more than just chapter two or three, they would have read the whole book of Revelation.

They would have instantly thought of Syria. They would not have thought this is the sea monster of Turkey, but rather they would have thought this is the sea monster of Syria.

So we can't claim that the Antichrist is from Turkey, like a lot of people do, or England or America or anywhere else.

Only, only, only Syria fits this description. And Syria was part of these ancient empires, Babylonian Empire and so forth, Greek Empire, Roman Empire, all the empires represented in Daniel chapter two was, did cover the land of Syria, not America, not England, but Syria was part of each and every one of those empires in Daniel.

So that helps to confirm as well.

Something else here is as we go throughout this chapter and it says wild beast and evil beast and wild beast repeatedly over and over in this chapter.

In the context of talking about what people today in modern vocabulary calls the Antichrist, even though the Bible never calls him that word Antichrist, but as modern vocabulary of what people call him today.

So we'll use that as part of the sermon title and we'll continue to use it as we talk about the subject using the modern vocabulary.

But the word beast here, referring to the Antichrist, specifically, and everybody accepts that's who it's talking about. Everybody of different religions, of different denominations or different groups all agree is talking about the Antichrist when it says beast in this chapter.

Context is absolutely clear, is undeniable and undebatable. It's easy, it's simple, it's well accepted.

But yet if you read this in the Arabic Bible, it would have an Arabic name, not a title, not a description, but specifically a surname, a last name.

And it would be, if you were to translate it into English, Wahash.

And that is the original surname, the true surname of Bashar Assad. His family, his dad, his grandfather, his ancestors, specifically that was their surname, their family name.

It specifically gives the name of the beast, the name of the Antichrist. It's very documented, absolutely documented, undeniable, undebatable that that was their name.

And they changed it, I think it was the grandfather, could have been the dad himself, whichever generation it was, changed it because it identified, because they knew that people saw that name as evil.

They saw it as being a negative thing to have that name. They saw it as being a negative thing.

They had more common sense than most people today that continue to use surnames that are evil and silly and ridiculous in which I would be like, there ain't no way I would keep that name.

I would definitely change my name. I would go to the courthouse, pay, no matter how much it took, and change my name.

These people that have very ridiculous names and evil names and silly names that are outrageous, they had more sense, even though they were evil and fallen angels, they got more sense than people, a lot of people, in that they knew that they needed to change their name.

But it gives you the name of the Antichrist. How can you debate it when it gives you the name of the Antichrist?

And yet people have seen me post that on social media, Twitter, Facebook, YouTube, so on, so on, the website, and they still do not accept that this is 100% undeniable proof.

And yet this is proof to the degree of God speaking out of heaven with thunder and lightning.

It's that solid, that undeniable. It gives you His name. And then we see the word lion down here. What verse is that?

Same verse. Same verse has lion. I don't think so. Verse one does not have lion. Verse two has lion. And in the Arabic, it would be the word Assad. Assad, which is his current family surname. Verse two also has the word beast, which is the original family name.

So verse two has both the original family surname and the current family surname, both in the same verse.

Double proof. Now that, that is mind-boggling, mind-blowing, amazing. And yet people still won't accept the truth, even with that level of solid, undeniable proof.

And when people don't accept that level of proof, they simply don't even want the truth.

They don't love the truth. They don't appreciate the truth. And no degree of long-suffering and patience and forbearance will erase their hard heart, stubbornness and wickedness and rebellion.

Nothing will change it. If that doesn't change their mind, nothing will. Absolutely nothing. They are hopeless.

Same thing with the Sabbath day. The Sabbath day is so very extremely clear in Scripture, Hebrews four, verse nine, that there still remains the observance of the Sabbath day to the people of God.

The surrounding verses says that God specified a Sabbath day. And if it had been changed, he would have told us so.

You can't get no more clear than that on the Sabbath. But you show people that Bible verse, the Holy Scripture, and they still don't accept it.

Such people are not worthy of your time, your patience, your long-suffering. They're not worthy of it.

And Jesus himself said that that type of people, you should shake the ashes, the dust off your feet, which is a custom of how you put a curse on someone.

To curse that house, to curse that person, to remove your peace, to remove your blessing, to not continue to forbear and long-suffer and be patient with them, but to leave them in the dust in their curse, their death, their sickness. This is what the Bible teaches. Not continuing and continuing forever and forever, waiting for them to accept the truth. But give them the truth, and if they still don't accept, then remove your peace from that person. People don't like what the Bible says because it contradicts the feel-good, tickle-me message that they are accustomed to. It's not about comfort. It's about wickedness. Their wickedness, their rebellion, their hatred of God's truth, outright rejection.

Now we see, a few verses later, there's the deadly head wound. Verse 3, one of his heads, his empires, seemed as if it had been slain.

Seemed as. But the fatal wound was healed, and the majority of the earth was amazed or shocked and followed after the evil beast.

The Antichrist, Assad. That was fulfilled when Assad was removed from Damascus. And when Damascus, much of the city, not every kilometer of the city, but the majority, a great huge portion of Damascus, was completely ruined, destroyed.

Huge, huge portions, miles and miles. And him, him removed from power and taken to Russia. That's the deadly head wound. We'll compare that verse with Isaiah 7.

Let's turn there, Isaiah 7 verse 8.

But the head of Syria is Damascus. So we see there, the Bible literally calls the head of Syria Damascus. When you look up the Greek word for head in the book of Revelation 13, one of the definitions, multiple definitions, one of them is a capital city of a nation.

And the Bible confirms that in this verse. You understand the Bible and the truth by comparing scripture with scripture. Very few people on this earth do that. Amen. The Bible explains itself, teaches itself. So the head that is suffering a head wound is not, not somebody that is suffering an assassination or assassination attempt or a bullet, but rather it is an attack on the capital city, Damascus.

That's exactly what it is, according to scripture, which we know that the Bible also talks about Damascus becoming a ruinous heap, a heap of destruction, which it now lies in that condition, not every kilometer of it, but a large portion.

We can also look at Isaiah 27 verse 1. In that day Theos will bring his holy and great and strong sword upon the dragon, even the serpent that flees upon the dragon, the crooked serpent, he shall destroy the dragon.

Where it says crooked serpent, some translations actually use that word that starts with the Leviathan, talking about the seven headed sea monster.

The context is talking about the end time Antichrist. Many pastors, many biblical scholars agree that the context is talking about the end time Antichrist, Jesus coming to destroy the end time Antichrist.

We see here that this is the Syrian sea monster. In a prophecy of his destruction at the coming of Jesus, which the Bible also predicts in 2 Thessalonians 2 and the book of Revelation, the destruction of the Antichrist at the coming of Jesus, when Jesus returns.

So that confirms the context and what it's talking about, who it's talking about there.

We can also look at chapter 10 here in Isaiah. There's a lot about the Assyrians and the Assyrian Antichrist in the book of Isaiah in many different chapters.

Isaiah 10 verse 5, Woe to the Assyrians, the rod of my wrath, my indignation and anger are in their hands.

Then go down to verse 12, And it should come to pass when the Lord shall have finished doing all things on Mount Zion and Jerusalem, that will visit upon the proud heart, even upon the ruler of the Assyrians, or even the king or president of the Assyrians, and upon the boastful arrogance of his eyes.

Everybody agrees that what that's talking about is Jesus destroying the end time last generation Antichrist.

Everybody agrees that that's what that's talking about. Biblical scholars from different denominations agree on that. And it specifically calls him the ruler or the prince or the president, however you would want to translate it, you can translate it many different ways like that.

A ruler, a head ruler of the Assyrian people. There's no nation on earth that has more Assyrian people than Syria itself. That number greatly reduced in the last decade or so because of all the war and chaos and everything that's been occurring there over the years.

That they falsely call a civil war. But nevertheless, historically in our generation, the land of Syria has been the greatest number on earth of Assyrian people.

Historically in our generation, in our lifetime, Syria has been the greatest population of Assyrian people on earth.

Verse five is calling him the paddle of God, basically. That instrument in which God, that person, that world leader, in which God uses as a paddle, as a switch, a discipline switch, a rod of chastisement, a rod of his wrath.

I know it says they're woe to the Assyrians, but you look at other translations and it specifically calls him, specifically, not just the Assyrian people, but specifically him in other translations.

It says that he is the Assyrian, the Assyrian, singular, the Assyrian, the rod of my inundation, my wrath.

You can also look at Isaiah 30 verse 30. And Jesus will make his glorious voice to be heard and the wrath of his arm to make a display of wrath and anger and devouring flame.

He will lighten terribly or awesomely and his wrath should be as water overflowing and violent hail.

By the voice of Jesus, the Assyrians should be overcome. Some translations just say simply, the Assyrian shall be overcome even by the stroke with which he shall strike them or strike him.

Even if you think of it as him striking the people, would not God also strike their leader?

The army has a leader and when you are the enemy of any army, you strike the leader.

So we can look at different translations, but we can also use our brains and common sense that when you strike a nation or a group of people, you primarily try to knock out their leader more than anyone else.

We can look at Ezekiel chapter 28, verse 1, And the word of Jesus came to me, saying, Then you, son of humans, say to the prince or the ruler, the leader of Tyrus, which is the land of Lebanon and Syria, Thus say of Jesus, because your heart has been exalted, and you have said, I am God, I have inhabited the seat of Theos.

Remember 2 Thessalonians 2 talks about the Antichrist saying that he's God and sitting in the seat, in the temple of God, in the heart of the sea.

Here it brings in even the Mediterranean Sea. "Yet you are mortal and not Theos, though you have set your heart as the heart of God.

Are you wiser than Daniel, or have not the wise instructed you of their knowledge?

Have you gained power for yourself by your own knowledge or your own providence or prudence, And gotten gold and silver in your treasures by your abundant knowledge and your trade?

You have multiplied your power, your heart has been lifted up by your power. Thus say of the Lord Jesus, since you have set your heart as the heart of Theos, because of this, Behold, I will bring on you strange flags from the nations, and they shall draw their swords against you and against the beauty of your knowledge.

And they shall bring down your beauty to destruction, and they shall bring you down, and you shall die the death of the slain in the heart of the sea.

Will you indeed say, I am Theos, before them that slay you, whereas you are mortal and not Theos?

You shall perish by the hands of strangers among the multitudes of the uncircumcised, for I have spoken it, say of Jesus."

Now, even though he calls him mortal, it doesn't have to necessarily be flesh, because even the angels can be destroyed. The Bible says only Jesus is immortal. That's what the scriptures say, only Jesus.

Jesus is the only immortal one. We know that the scriptures talk about even the fallen angels, and even the antichrist himself, and even Satan himself, will perish in the lake of fire.

So Satan is not immortal. He's not. If you can die, then you're not immortal. Satan can die, will die, in the lake of fire.

He's spirit, but not immortal. So mortal here does not necessarily mean human. Just simply, you're still capable of being destroyed by God. We just read just yesterday that we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against rulers of darkness, principalities.

And it says the powers of this world. There are world leaders, both today and in the ancient empires, that were demons, or at least Nephilim, which is half demon, half human, and demon-possessed humans, all three categories.

There have been, both today on the earth and in human history, there have been world leaders, empires, pharaohs, presidents, prime ministers, that have been demon-possessed men, and there have been some that were Nephilim, half human, half demon, and some pure fallen angels.

And this is one of those cases right here, in the land of Lebanon/Syria, which shares the same borders, it's the same land, which was called, still today in the Middle East, called Levant, the land of the sea monster, the Levant.

And I have said a million times that, and is very well-documented, is very well-known, that Assad was the real ruler behind Hezbollah and controlling much of the land of Syria for decades.

I mean, not Syria, but Lebanon. When we look at Lebanon and this town of Tyre, we've got to realize demonic entities have ruled that land multiple times, different rulers, demonic rulers.

Lebanon is very important in Scripture. There's even another passage, somewhere here in Ezekiel, also talking about Satan being a ruler of a town or a nation.

I may be thinking about this chapter, but I think there's another chapter as well, if I'm not mistaken, here in Ezekiel as well, that talks about that and actually uses the word Satan, a belief, if I'm not mistaken, referring to him as being a ruler of that land, of that same land.

We can also look at chapter 38, the Gog-Magog War, and we know that chapter 38 talks about the Antichrist nations, Russia, China, and Iran coming against Israel, which includes America, the Israelite nations.

So it was very puzzling to me for a long time, decades, why does it not list Syria?

Why does it not specifically talk about the Antichrist, the Assyrian, son of perdition, man of sin, man of destruction? Whatever you would want to word it, it doesn't use any of those wordings in this chapter.

Why not? Why would it not? And now we know. Now we know, and now it's clear, and that mystery was solved when the Antichrist Assad went to Russia.

So that when Russia here in this chapter comes against Israel, it's the same as Assad, even though Assad is not the official president of Russia.

But we know that by common sense that the Iranian regime and the Muslims and Russia and China, all the groups here that comes against Israel, will be believing that Assad is God.

And so he is, in that sense, the ruler, the head supreme, as the Iranian regime would call him, the supreme, the English word supreme leader, supreme head, supreme ruler, whatever that phrase is, my mind is sleepy right now, my brain is half asleep.

I think it's supreme leader. But yeah, the Ayatollah Khamenei, which is the supreme leader. The Iranians have said more than once that they know who the Mahdi is.

Iran and Assad both have ruled Hezbollah and Lebanon. That war is still fighting, they have not destroyed Hezbollah. And Hezbollah is the army of Assad, and Assad also still has 14 huge underground military control bunkers in Syria to this very day that no one has touched or destroyed.

They're sitting there empty, well, maybe not empty, but not destroyed. Why? Why has Israel not destroyed them? Why has the new Syrian regime not destroyed them?

Why has America not destroyed those military control centers, 14 of Assad? Common sense.

Assad is also the only world leader that combines aspects of Roman false Christianity, Christmas, Easter, Sunday, the Trinity doctrine, Islam, Buddhism, aspects of Buddhism and aspects of Hinduism, including reincarnation.

Only Assad is the only world leader in all the nations on this earth that combines all aspects of all world religions, all world religions, all, are wrapped up in that Al-Ali cult of Assad.

He is the only world leader that is a Muslim that believes in Christmas and Easter and Sunday and Trinity, and actually loves the Catholic Church.

And when he was in Syria, gave Christmas speeches, so forth, and visited the Catholic churches, so forth, and believes in reincarnation as well, all these different things.

So he's the only one that can be really worshiped by the whole world as a fake Christ, because to be worshiped by the whole world, you've got to blend all world religions.

He's the only one that fits that. He is also of Jewish ancestry, and he is also of Iranian ancestry, as well as the Jewish ancestry.

You can't have somebody claiming to be Christ without Jewish ancestry. You can't.

It's impossible. You have to have some type of connection to the Jewish history, the Jewish ancestry, to be able to say that you're Christ, to have any kind of legitimacy type of claim that people can grab on to.

The United Nations has repeatedly declared East Jerusalem as the land of Syria, and they do that repeatedly every year, year after year after year after year.

The United Nations declared that same thing again and again and again. East Jerusalem belongs to Syria, not Turkey, not England, not Jordan, Syria.

We have so much proof is overwhelming, and we know also the time of the Maccabees, Hanukkah, and Antiochus Epiphanes was a Syrian foreshadowing of the end time Antichrist.

Everybody establishes that, accepts that, acknowledges that, that he was considered as a, although you consider him as Greek, but you could also consider him as the head of the Syrian region and as a Syrian leader, ruler, head. And that he was a foreshadowing of the end time Antichrist. All of that is very well established and accepted and embraced and taught by biblical scholars.

So the proof is just so overwhelming. And we could stand here all day and give more proof and more proof and more proof, but that is so sufficient right there.

We'll just stop right there. You can also check out the article on the website.

www.isawthelightministries.com/antichrist.html

I encourage you to do that and test it and examine the evidence.

You can't ask for more proof. You can't ask for more. It's all laid out for you on a golden platter. It's all laid out for you, for anyone that wants to accept the truth, people that care about the truth.

We're going to put on a song and we'll be right back with your testimonies and your questions and your comments.

And this is your opportunity to glorify God and contribute to the worship service.

Let's see what song we'll put on. Let's see what song we'll put on. Song 57.

Washes white as snow. 57.

Copyright 2026 I Saw The Light Ministries

www.isawthelightministries.com