

Sermon Transcript: Purim Foreshadowings in 2023

2023-02-21

I saw the light. Amen. Praise Jesus. Praise Jesus.

Well, I believe everybody that's going to show up has shown up. So it's good to see each person, everybody.

Good to see our brother in Mexico and our brothers and sisters in Jamaica and South Africa, New York and other places around the world.

Praise God. Today is the first day of the 12th biblical month.

So that means Purim is only two weeks away, the next holy day on God's biblical calendar. Purim will be a great celebration, a biblical celebration. We read about it in the Bible, but yet very few Christians celebrate it even though it's in the Bible.

We need to seek out the old path, is what the holy scriptures say. Seek out the old path and walk therein. Amen.

We don't need a new way. We don't need to modernize the church. We need the old-fashioned, old-school way.

Boy, that's me. That defines me as old-school. Amen. And that defines Jesus. Old-school. Amen.

He don't like a lot of this modern stuff.

One of these days, we're going to be in the great tribulation, which will restore us to ancient principles, ancient way of life.

We won't be able to just march into the store and buy anything we want. We'll have to grow our own food, hunt for food, and survive off the land and get our medicine off the land just like our ancestors. Amen.

What a great day of deliverance that will be. Amen.

No more computer jobs, no more Hollywood, so forth, so forth. What a great day of deliverance. That day when people wake up and there's no electricity, no internet, no cell phones, what a wonderful day that will be.

But yet most people would think it would be the most horrible day in their lives. But what a great day of deliverance. Praise God.

Okay. Let's go in prayer.

Lord Heavenly Father, creator of heaven and earth, the Alpha, the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the ending, the author and finisher of our faith, praise your holy name. Thank you, Lord, for this first day of the twelfth month. We thank you that you have been faithful to see us through thus far this year.

You have saw us through all these years and months and days and weeks, every hour, every second, every breath, every heartbeat. Praise your holy name.

We ask for your special blessing and anointing upon today's sermon, today's message.

Please help us to grow in understanding and in comprehension of the truth and of world events, the time we live in, and how to appropriately and correctly react and respond to the events of the world.

We ask for more of your holy ghost, that you live inside of us, save us and deliver us from all of our afflictions and from every tactic, every plan, every device of the enemy.

We accept your anointing on this message. We accept it and ask for your help in applying it into our life.

We pray for all the new brothers and sisters coming into the truth, that you'd help them to understand and to grow, to learn, to change out of the false assumptions, to change out of Babylonian traditional thinking, traditional doctrines, and away from the Western, modern thinking, Western, modern mentality.

We turn back to the old path, the original path that you laid for us and prepared for us, that we may walk therein.

And we'll prepare your way, that you may walk therein. And we're together, Father, you and us, we will usher in the fullness of your kingdom.

We praise your holy name. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen. Praise God.

Let's turn to Colossians chapter 2. Praise Jesus. Colossians chapter 2 in the New Testament. Colossians is right after Philippians, which is right after Ephesians, which is right after Galatians, which is right after Corinthians, if that helps you out, isn't it?

G-E-P-C. Colossians starts on page 214. And we're supposed to get our brand new updated Alpha and Omega copies tomorrow, all of them.

Not yet. Is tomorrow Wednesday yet? Supposedly, hopefully, we'll have our brand new copies for the local congregation.

I'm still working on getting orders for everybody else, for other people, some people, some people got them, some people will be coming later this week or next week or whatever.

But it'll take probably four more months to get everybody in the congregation their fresh copies. But we will do it as we're able to.

Colossians chapter 2. Let's start in verse 16. Now, of course, these verses are very commonly used to try to claim that the Sabbath and Holy Days and the first day of the month, the new moons, that they were done away with by the crucifixion of Jesus. That is the popular claim, and it's very clear that they're twisting these scriptures as we read it, because it doesn't say any such thing. Amen.

Verse 16 says, but let no one, Colossians 2 verse 16, but let no one condemn you in regard to me or alcohol or in respect to a fiesta or feast day or a new moon or a Sabbath day.

Verse 17, things which are the prophetic foreshadowings, but the substance belongs to Christ. Now, the substance, what the Holy Days are really about, what the Sabbath and all these things really are about, is Christ.

That's the opposite of doing away with them. They're about Christ. Their foundation, their old path, and their new path, both in this case, is all about Christ. Amen.

Verse 18, let no one keep defrauding you of your prize by delighting in self-abasement or self-crucifixion, self-humbling in an extent that goes beyond what you need to do.

We're all about humbling ourselves. Absolutely. Paul is not against humbling yourself. He tells you to, right? But this particular form of self-abasement is going beyond humbling yourself.

It is legalism of abstaining from all of these things in order to be holy. And so we see in a lot of churches, especially in the Pentecostal churches, we see that they teach that if you drink just one drink of alcohol, just one drink or just one beer or just one cup of wine, that you have sinned. And that's not biblical.

We know that, yes, the Bible has many verses that warn us about overindulgence in alcohol, allowing it to gain control over us and power over us to ruin our lives, to cause arguments, fights, imprisonment, and other possibilities of how alcohol and drugs and things can ruin your life.

So it's a warning about gluttony, overindulgence, and allowing things to take power over you and authority over you and ruin your life.

But there's other verses that those churches would never read because they like to pick and choose the verses that tickle their ears, that agree only with what they want to believe, but leaving out and completely ignoring verses that expose their ignorance and expose their sins and expose their false doctrine. They, of course, avoid, painfully avoid, with every inch of their fiber there being those verses.

There are verses that talk about using wine for the health of your stomach and that wine makes the heart merry, happy, and the commandment to drink wine on Passover, and the book of Deuteronomy, I think it's chapter 14, maybe, that talks about on the Holy Days and, specifically, the Feast of Tabernacles or any of the other Holy Days, to take your money from your second type, not only for travel and to be able to keep the Holy Days, but for food and alcohol, it talks about, to buy that for the Holy Days.

So, very clearly, there are verses, multiple verses, that speak of alcohol in a good manner and not a complete avoidance and not a complete restriction against alcohol.

Only warnings about allowing it to ruin your life.

So, the Pentecostal Church and some of the other churches are very well known for their restriction of alcohol and other things as self-abasement, as overindulgence of crucifixion, overindulgence in crucifying themselves, overabundance of that.

And then they have also listed here in verse 16, meat. We have 40 days of Lent that some people will do 40 days of abstaining from meat.

Some of the Catholics and Lutherans might do ever Friday of no meat except for fish.

And then there's a lot of vegetarians, and that is a religion in itself.

And they abstain from meat all the time, which results in them being skinny and weak and having joint pain and joint problems and low immune systems and everything else.

And then you've got almost all the denominations, the avoidance of the Sabbath, the New Moon, and the Holy Days.

And they think that makes them holy. They do.

They think that by breaking the law and saying that the law is done away with and the Sabbath and the Holy Days and the New Moons that they're all done away with, that that makes them holy because they think all those things compete against the blood of Christ. Therefore, by abstaining from all those things, they are more holy than we are.

So the abstaining from all these different things, the meat, the alcohol, the feast days, New Moons, Sabbaths, all these things, abstaining from all these things are ways that false religion condemn us, judge us wrongfully using false doctrines and twisting the Bible and thinking that you can't enjoy life and you can't celebrate God's Holy Days.

So what this verse says is to not let those people of those false religions that believe that way to condemn us and to wrongfully judge us and condemn us.

That's exactly what it says. Let no one condemn you in regard to these things.

This is straight out easy language to understand. Easy language to understand.

When people condemn us and judge us wrongfully for keeping the Sabbath, the New Moons, and the Holy Days, or even for drinking alcohol or for eating meat, we have every right to rebuke them, to correct them, and to set them straight and to tell them how deceived they are. We are not to allow them to do that to us, to condemn us, because these are things that the Lord fully accepts and even encourages us in all of these things. As long as we stay in the right moderation and be able to control all these things in a correct way.

Verse 17 also warns about these false religions worshipping angels.

And I guarantee you there's a lot of Pentecostals and Lutherans and Catholics and other people who are worshipping angels.

They've got statues of angels in their house, pictures of angels on the wall, statues of angels in their yards, and so forth.

Of course, they would never admit and confess that it is idolatry, but we know that it is because that's the second commitment. Make no image of anything in heaven or anything on earth. We're not supposed to have images of people, animals, angels, God, Jesus, any such thing.

But that is the letter of the law. The spirit of the law is to not have them for worship, but the problem there is laws people don't know what they're worshipping, because they don't have spirits or discernment.

And so, of course, they can claim day and night all their claims about how much wisdom they have, how much intelligence they have, how holy they are and how correct they are.

But as we grow in the truth, God starts giving us more and more spiritual eyes. Those people, the Bible says they are blind, and the blind lead the blind.

So blind leaders, blind pastors, blind religions are leading the blind, leading the blind. And that is exactly what occurs.

And God has given us a better spiritual vision, ability to see spiritual things and see that they are worshipping those things.

Now, it's not wrong if we were to go to the beach or the park or something and we want to take pictures and put those in frames around the house to remember the good time we had on vacation or at the beach or the park or the wedding, whatever.

That's fine. That's fine, and that's not worship. But when we start having pictures and statues of angels or of what we call Jesus or things like that, then yes, that's worship.

Whether you call it worship or not, it is worship because an angel is a religious creature. So to have an image of a religious creature, that is worship.

And the Native American Indians and people that are fascinated and obsessed with the Native American Indians, those people have statues of wolves and pictures of wolves and eagles and things like that in their house.

And what they don't realize is that the Native American Indians did use the eagle and the wolf in a spiritual, religious context. Absolutely.

No, they were not necessarily what a lot of people call worship, those things, but yes, they did worship those things. Absolutely. They would speak to the spirit of the wolf, they would speak or pray or chant to the spirit of the wolf and the spirit of the eagle.

If you pray to such things, if you chant to such things, then yes, you are worshipping them.

And when you take such creatures that was idolized by the Native American Indians or other tribes around the world, those whatever animals, the sacred cow in India, whatever, you take animals, turtles, fish. A turtle is another one in the Native American Indians, which were not Native American at all.

They had come across, they were not the original inhabitants of America, not at all.

You take an animal that we don't typically think of a religious figure and look at the origins of how the Native tribes, so-called Native tribes, idolized those animals and then we embrace those same animals in a carved image or a graven image or even a printed image.

Then it is idolatry. So we have to be extremely careful about such things, extremely, extremely careful about such things.

And we need to lay hands on and pray over any image that we do have in our homes to ask God to look with His spiritual eyes and to give us spiritual discernment and more and more and more spiritual discernment every year, to grow in a spiritual discernment measure every year.

So you may not have any knowledge that something is sinful the first year that you are a babe in Christ.

People think when they first get saved they know everything. They don't. It takes time to grow in understanding and spiritual discernment.

So the next year and the next year and the next year after that you may finally realize, wow, I do have something in my home that I need to throw away.

I remember that was me year after year after year I was throwing something else away.

Every year I was throwing something away because as I grew in the Lord then I became more understanding and knowledgeable and discerning about things.

And it should be the same with you or anyone that truly gets saved. Amen.

As we get older in Christ our ears and eyes become stronger in the Lord. Amen.

But legalism of abstaining from things that are not truly forbidden in the Bible and just going by a traditional religion of what they say is forbidden, what they forbid are the good things.

They forbid the things that God does not forbid and they call us legalistic and they call us a cult and they call us all about law, law, law, law.

But the opposite is true. We embrace a lot of things that they say are sin and to them everything is a sin including God's law.

To them, to the Baptist church, Pentecostal, Catholics and Lutherans, everything is a sin including God's law.

It's crazy. They are the legalistic law people even though they say all law is done away with.

They make up laws and it is those religions that brought in new law into the American government and the state governments in the United States in the 1910s, 1920s, 1930s.

They instituted new laws that was new and that there was no call for and that was very legalistic based upon their false doctrines.

And so there was a lot of different laws including they made alcohol illegal in the United States in the 1920s and so forth.

But there was a lot of different laws that was enacted back then based upon false doctrine.

The church is corrupting the law of America in that time.

They go back to verse 14. Let's go back up here because they like to use this.

Verse 14, Having cancelled out the certificate of debt consisting of decrees against us which was hostile to us and He has taken it out of the way. Having nailed it to the cross.

So they say that these decrees are God's law and that He nailed it to the cross, God's law.

That's not what it says. I don't see the word law in verse 14 or Sabbath in verse 14. But rather a decree against us that was hostile that He took and put out of the way and nailed it to the cross is really talking about the verdict of the wages of sin. The wages of sin, the Bible says the wages of sin is death, talking about the second death after the millennium and 100 years. The second death, the lake of fire. That is the verdict. That is the certificate of decree, the verdict against us. He nailed the death sentence to the cross so that we would not have to die. That's what He nailed to the cross is our guilt, our sin. If we embrace that sacrifice and walk in that sacrifice and walk in the newness of life being baptized into Christ Jesus, being crucified with Him through baptism and resurrected with Him through baptism, Romans 6. That's what He nailed to the cross. Not the Sabbath day, not the holy days. He didn't nail alcohol to the cross. He did not nail meat to the cross. He did not nail the Sabbath to the cross. Hebrews 4 verse 9 says the Sabbath still remains. It actually says it. Amen. So they twist things. They have no true understanding of the Bible.

But what I want to get to today is actually this word in verse 17. Things which are foreshadowings. The holy days are foreshadowings and that's what I want to focus on today. A foreshadowing is when something is a pattern, an example that points to a future event, a foreshadowing. It is a prophetic foreshadowing. The Sabbath and the holy days, all of the holy days have somewhat of something, a prophetic picture, a prophetic future fulfillment. And even some of the false churches, they realize that, but they think that all of those holy days have already been 100% fulfilled and there's nothing in the future for that. And they're wrong about that very clearly. There are prophecies still yet to be fulfilled that are 100% directly related to the holy days and that's very, very easily proven. That there are still yet unfulfilled prophecies in the future directly related to the holy days. And that includes the Purim that comes up in just two weeks from now on March 6 and March 7. It's different dates every year because God's holy days and the Roman calendar does not match up. And so it will be a different day in the Roman calendar next year. This year, 2023, March 6 and March 7 are the two days of Purim.

We read about Purim in the book of Esther, so it is a biblical holy day. A lot of people think of Purim as only a Jewish holy day, but the fact is that anyone that has been baptized into Christ Jesus is baptized into a Jewish family. Jesus was a Jew. Amen. So we're baptized into Jesus and He, in the physical bloodline, was a Jew. And the Bible says that a true Israelite and a true Jew is one that is circumcised in the heart and other things like that that it talks about and not in the flesh. So you don't have to be circumcised in the flesh to be a Jew. You don't have to be sacrificed, circumcised in the flesh to be an Israelite or a Hebrew.

These are a spiritual family. The book of Romans talks about how anybody that is adopted into Christ, or that comes into Christ Jesus, He is part of the family tree. That's very clear in the book of Romans.

So we are all, regardless of our race, our language, where we come from, what tribe we came from, if we are truly, truly, truly saved, which most people are not, but if we are truly saved, then we are spiritually an Israelite and a Jew.

Purim, in the book of Esther, has end time foreshadowings. Let's just turn there right now real quick to the book of Esther.

And that's what volume. History volume. Right before Maccabees or near Maccabees right there. Yeah, right before 1 Maccabees.

We'll go to Esther 1 in the history volume. Page 264. Page 264. And if there's anybody that would like the Alpha and Omega Bible, it is available on the internet, and if you cannot afford it, let me know. Let me know if you want it. And Esther chapter 1, in the Alpha and Omega Bible, is longer than what it is in most modern translations, because we are using older manuscripts that actually did contain many more words in Esther chapter 1. So it's very important to read it in the Alpha and Omega Bible, and it has restored this book of Esther and all the other books of the Bible. And I've got an old copy here.

Like I say, we're supposed to get our new ones tomorrow, so I apologize if I read anything that's not been updated, have been edited and changed and perfected since then. In fact, let me look at this.

This one right here is a little bit more updated.

All right. This will actually not be page 262 in some of the editions. Esther chapter 1 says, In the second year of the reign of Artaxerxes the great king, on the first day of Nisan, Mordecai, the son of Jarius, the son of Semias, the son of Cisia, the tribe of Benjamin, one of the twelve tribes, a Judean dwelling in the city Susa, which is in Iran. A great man, serving in the king's palace, had a dream.

Mordecai had a dream. Now, he was of the captivity, meaning he had been taken captive by Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylon, had been carried captive from Jerusalem with Zacharias, the king of Judea. And this was his dream.

Behold, voices and a noise, thunders and earthquake, turmoil or tribulation upon the earth. And look, two great serpents came forth. These two great serpents, I believe, represent the end-time Antichrist and false prophet. Two great serpents came forth, both ready for conflict, and there came from them a great voice, and by their voice every nation was prepared for battle, even to fight against the nation of the just.

Praise God. So, this is a prophetic picture of the end-time Antichrist and false prophet leading every nation on earth, well, not every nation on earth, but all the Gentiles. That word nation there can be Gentile.

It can be translated as Gentile. And it's not every nation on earth, but it is the Gentile nations. It is Gog and Magog, Ezekiel 38, Russia, China, Persia, Iran, all these Islamic and Muslim nations coming against Israel.

And it calls Israel the nation of the just. That's very interesting. Now, we know that today Israel is a wicked nation today, just like America, South Africa, Australia and England and Canada and Mexico, and all the nations of the earth today have fallen away from God, sinned against God, rebelled against God, and given themselves up to all kinds of sin.

Okay? So, we know that Israel is not perfect in their government and their population, their citizenship is not perfect, just like America and any other nation on earth, we are not perfect people, citizens, and nations in this modern, upside-down world we live in. But when it calls Israel here the nation of the just, it is really referring to the fact that God promised Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and their descendants, Manasseh and Ephraim, all the way to the end of time, great blessings and promises and favor, all the way, forever. People don't realize that. I think people have a mentality that the promises of blessings and favor upon Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, that that's over with thousands of years ago.

You can't read that in the Bible. In fact, the exact opposite we read in the Bible, that their descendants and their descendants and their descendants, that there will always be these everlasting, eternal favor and blessings upon those particular tribes of people. That's not racism, but it's God's favor, just like if a mom and a dad might have four children, or seven children, or two children, whatever the situation may be, and the dad have one particular son that he is the closest to, or the mom might have one particular daughter that she is the closest to. We saw that with Jacob versus Esau, right? We saw that with Ishmael and so forth, and different things, different situations. We saw that with Joseph and his brothers, and the interaction that the old man Jacob had between different sons of his. He loves them all, and every parent loves all their children, and God loves everybody, but he does have favorites, because based upon how those particular people react to him, how they speak with him, what kind of relationship, what kind of a relationship a particular person, or tribe, or nation, or town has with him. Amen. If you show God favor here, we turn you favor.

Amen. And that's what happened. And those particular promises of blessings, eternal blessings, even though it started with Abraham, which is a father of both Arabs and Israelites, but those promises got transferred specifically to the Israelite nations as it came down through those different children, and specifically down into Manasseh and Ephraim, eventually, the children of Joseph in Egypt. And these children, descendants today, became the Americans and the British Empire, which very clearly has God's favor. Amen. And even the nation of Israel today very clearly has God's favor. So that's what it's talking about when it says the nation of the just is really showing God's favor upon the nation of Israel. And we know it's talking about Israel. You ain't going to have Gog and Magog and these Gentile nations coming up against, say, Rwanda, or Uganda. It's talking about one particular nation on earth that all of the Gentile nations around the globe all hate. They all share a common hatred for America and Israel. Amen. And the British Empire. Because we're those tribes of the, that's the tribal division in the world that we're seeing, the racial war that has always existed back to those times. Amen.

It's jealousy is what it is. Different people, different tribes being jealous one over another because of their blessings from God and trying to steal those blessings from those that God gave it to. And so there's a lot to it.

Amen. There's a lot to it. But let's move on here. And it says that they're going to come against that nation and behold a day of gloom and darkness, tribulation and wrath. You know, it reminds me of Joel 2 and Joel 3, a day of gloominess and darkness. This is language that is similar to the book of Joel. And you have these words tribulation and wrath, oppression and great confusion upon the earth. And that word confusion, that's what Babylon means. Babylon means confusion. So we've got a whole earth full of confusion and a whole earth full of Babylon.

Upside down world. Amen. And all the righteous nation was troubled, fearing their own afflictions, and they prepared to die and cried to God, to Theos, and from their cry there came, as it were, a great river from a little fountain, leaving much water. And the light in the sun arose and engulfed the honorable, and the lowly was exalted, and Mordecai, who had seen the vision, and what God had desired to do, having awakened, kept it in his heart, desired by all to interpret it, and so forth. Now, it also became a foreshadowing, a first fulfillment, referring to these two great serpents of, I can't pronounce these names, but Gabatha and Tharrha.

Alright, so there was these two men that was against the king that wanted to assassinate the king.

Two men that was alive during Mordecai's time when he had the dream. These two men were alive.

Gabatha and Tharrha, however you would pronounce that. And it initially represented those two men that was coming against the king that Mordecai served. Mordecai's master, and Esther's master.

And being a good servant and a good slave in captivity, even though they were there against their will, they were still submissive to their Persian Gentile masters. These were white slaves in an arid empire.

And they were still submissive, even though they were slaves and against their will.

And Mordecai told all this, all this occurred. But just because you have the initial fulfillment in those particular two men, doesn't mean that there's not another fulfillment.

People do understand that in prophecy, many times, many, many, many times, there are two fulfillments or more. A first fulfillment, then a greater fulfillment.

So the first fulfillment would be a foreshadowing.

So these first two men are prophetic pictures, mirror images of a future end time Antichrist.

And the tribulation of those days being a foreshadowing of the tribulation of our days.

70 AD, the destruction of the temple, the Roman and Syrian invasion of Israel.

That being a foreshadowing of the end time tribulation of our days. Amen.

The same people. People do understand that the people that destroyed the temple in 70 AD were not just Romans alone, but Syrian soldiers that were part of the Roman Empire.

So you have that connection, that combination of both Roman and Syrian, just like with the end time Antichrist and false prophet.

You're going to have the Roman Catholic popes and the Syrian Antichrist.

The Roman and Syrian both working together. That's the way it was in 70 AD.

That is a foreshadowing, that is a mirror image of what is going to be in the end time.

The Roman Catholic Church and the Roman Empire working in conjunction to invade Israel, in conjunction with Syria.

We have seen the modern popes taking the side of Islam in recent years, taking the side of the Assyrian beast, wild beast, Assad.

And we see all this occurring, foreshadowings, things that predict the future.

Let's go to Matthew 24.

Matthew 24, page 34.

Matthew 24, verse 1, Jesus came out of the temple, was going away with his disciples, came up to point out the temple buildings to him.

And he said to them, do you not see all these things?

Amen, I say to you, I tell you the truth, is the way it says now translated.

Not one stone here would be left upon another which would not be torn down.
So he's looking at the temple now of that day and time, it was not yet 70 AD.
And he says that that temple will, well it's not even the temple now because the temple now is not where it was.

People don't understand that.

But very close to the temple now, over to the side where the temple actually did stand, it actually was not where the temple now is today.

But he says that it won't be neither.

One stone left that you ain't going to have after it's destroyed, you're not going to have two stones on top of each other.

But if you look at the temple now today, you look at the western wall, which people think are remnants of the temple, you've still got a whole bunch of stones, hundreds of stones on top of each other.

So it's impossible, absolutely impossible, for that to be the true temple amount.

You look through history, you can actually find that was built by the Syrians.

Or maybe restored by the Syrians, whichever way it was.

There's a Syrian connection there.

Even Antiochus Epiphanes had something to do with that at one time.

So that part, that area, that section there.

So it's not the true temple amount that they are worshipping.

They're definitely worshipping those stones.

Absolutely, you can't deny that.

They are worshipping the stones of the temple now.

Stone worship is a huge problem, always has been.

So it says here in verse 3, And he was sitting on the mount of Olives, and the disciples came to him privately, saying, Tell us, when will these things happen, and what will be the sign of your coming, and of the end of the world?

They were not asking about 70 A.D.

Even though Christ was talking about 70 A.D. of the buildings being torn down, they did not realize that there would be a foreshadowing to come first, for the huge fulfillment they met.

They didn't realize that the end of time would not be in their life.

They thought the end of their generation, the end of the world, basically, would come in their lifetime.

They really did.

Even this question is clear that they thought it would be in their lifetime.

That 70 A.D. was only a foreshadowing.

So he was talking about the foreshadowing, and they were talking about the real end of the world, because they thought it would happen in their lifetime.

Verse 4, And Jesus answered and said to them, See to it that no one deceives you.

For many, many people will come in My name, saying, I am the Christ, and will deceive many.

There's two ways you can take that.

Two ways.

You could interpret that as meaning that there will be people that literally say that they're God, they're the Messiah.

And if you take it that way, if that's what it really means, we know that has been fulfilled many times over, and is fulfilled more and more every year.

There's all kinds of false messiahs out there actually saying they're Jesus.

There's one in Israel right now.

I think there's at least two or three in Israel right now, that each one of them has thousands of followers.

Not just one or two followers, but thousands of followers.

And these people actually believe they really are the Messiah.

There's more than one in Israel right now claiming that, that have a huge following.

And there's always been such.

There's another way you could interpret this verse, is that many people would come in the name of Christ saying that they're Christians, and that they believe in Jesus, and yet they still deceive people.

And that they're saying that Jesus is the Christ, but they're still deceiving people even though they're saying this.

So however you would interpret this, they're both been fulfilled, but continue to be fulfilled more so in a greater extent, in a greater measure, every year, and it is increasing, and will continue to.

But whichever way it means, let no one deceive you.

Verse 6, you will be hearing of wars and rumors of wars.

See that you are not frightened, for those things must take place, but it is not yet the time.

So we've always had wars, but as we get closer to the end, you continue to see and hear of wars, and rumors of war, that war is going to start.

That's what a rumor of war is, is that you always have these rumors or thinking that there's going to be another war, that a greater war is coming, a greater war, or another war, or more dangerous, or closer to your location, or whatever.

And all this just continues to increase, and every one of them is a foreshadowing of the real fulfillment.

That really will come.

Wars will come.

Wars will come and go.

But they are prophetic pictures of the greater war that is yet to occur.

And it says here in verse 7, For race, or nation, or Gentile, will rise up against each other, against another race, nation, or Gentile, and a kingdom, or realm, against kingdom, or realm, and against places there will also be famines, and earthquakes, and hurricanes, again, all intensifying each year, being foreshadowings of greater hurricanes, greater famines, and greater racial war.

Verse 8, But all these things are the beginning of birth pains.

So, the way a woman, if she is pregnant, she has the different problems with her stomach, and the baby kicking and moving around, and then as it gets closer and closer to the birth of the baby, the pain and the kicking and so forth, and the problems intensify until the very day of major pain at childbirth, and the living of blood and water all clamoring on the day of birth.

And that is the way the world events are.

That is the way the world events are.

Amen.

So, these are all foreshadows.

They are all foreshadows.

These are what we see right now, and increasing and intensifying on a regular basis.

But one of these days, it won't be a foreshadowing anymore.

One of these days, that birth of the Great Tribulation will occur.

Amen.

It will occur.

And sometimes you have false labor to where the woman thinks that she is going to go ahead and give birth.

She's having a major pain, major problems, but the time of birth is not yet.

But she thinks it's going to happen that day, or she thinks it's going to happen that month, but it doesn't occur.

We see that.

That is the natural realm, the natural aspect of things.

That's the way things go.

That is nature.

Amen.

It's no different in the spiritual realm.

But one of these days, it will happen.

It will happen.

Amen.

Let's turn to the book of Ezekiel.

I've got the wrong chapter written down in my notes.

I'm going to fix that.

It's actually chapter 33.

At least I know where I'm going.

Ezekiel 33.

For the people that are just joining us for the first time in the last few minutes, we're reading from the Alpha and Omega Bible, the restoration of the original Scriptures.

Ezekiel 33, page 129 or so.

It might be a page or two, depending on when you got your copy.

Verse 1, and the word of Jesus came to me, saying, Son of humans, or Son of humankind, speak to the children of your people.

And you shall say to them, On whatsoever land that I shall bring a sword, or war, and the people of the land take one man of them and set him up for a watchman, and he see the sword coming upon the land, and blow the trumpet, and sound an alarm to the people.

And he that hears the sound of the trumpet shall hear indeed, and yet not take heed.

And the sword shall come upon him and overtake him, his blood shall be upon his own head.

In other words, if the watchman, the prophet, or creature, or pastor, or guard person is watching events and sees danger coming, sees war coming, or any type of a danger coming, and warns the people, but the people do not take action and prepare for the attack, the danger, then it's only the fault of the people that heard the trumpet, that heard the warning, the prediction, the foreshadowing, but they did not respond appropriately.

It's upon their own head, it's in their own hands.

The watchman, the prophet, the guard, is not responsible, as long as he did warn the people when he saw the danger coming.

Verse 5, because he heard the sound of the trumpet, but he took no heed, he did not appropriately respond, he did not take action.

His blood shall be upon himself.

But the other, because he did take heed, because he did take action, he has delivered his soul, his own soul, he preserved his own life.

But if the watchman, the prophet, the guard, sees the sword, the danger, the war coming, and does not blow, does not sound the trumpet, and the people do not watch, and the sword comes and takes a soul, a life from among them, that soul is taken away from them because of its iniquity, its sin, but the blood thereof will I require at the watchman's hand.

So both the person and the prophet both are held responsible for that person's death.

The person himself is held responsible for his own sins, that's why he has died, but the prophet is also held accountable for not warning, because he saw the danger coming, but he did not warn the people.

This is a very easy concept, principle, to understand.

And we are held responsible to give our testimonies.

If we have a dream, if we have a vision, and it's really from God, we're held responsible.

We have to tell our dreams and our visions and warn the people if it's a prophetic warning.

Even if it's not a prophetic warning, if God speaks to us, we have to share that, we have to vent that, we should want to vent that, we should want to share that.

Why would you want to hide that?

Why would you want to hold that to yourself?

Unless, of course, it's a private message.

But most of the time it's not a private message, but something that the entire church and even strangers and lost people need to hear.

Amen.

And it amazes me how often people have very simple dreams that are very easy to interpret that does not take a prophet to interpret, and yet they will tell me their dream and say, I don't know what it means.

I don't know, I don't know.

It amazes me, absolutely amazes me.

Don't, but however, even though I say that, don't let those words of mine hinder you and hold you back in fear of sharing the dream or the vision.

You're held responsible to share dreams and visions.

If you don't think you just ate too many spicy food before you went to bed, you just ate something wrong with you, or a silly, ridiculous dream, then of course you don't need to share those.

But if there's a possibility that it's really from God, you should share it.

Amen.

And not let any person hold you back.

Amen.

And we're also held responsible for our testimonies to testify how we got saved, how we found the truth, how we found the truth about the Sabbath day, the holy days, and so forth.

We should be, every one of us is responsible and will be held responsible to God for testifying and witnessing to our own families and friends, at least attempting that.

Even though we've got to be realistic, that our family and friends and co-workers, they are not going to accept, for the most part, most people are not going to accept any of the truth because not only is the world blind and ignorant, but the world does not even want the truth and is not interested in the truth, and when they receive the truth, they hate it and despise it and treat it as if it is trash.

And they will rebuke the truth and throw away the truth and persecute you for the truth.

That's the reality.

But even though that's the reality, we can't allow those people to hinder us from the initial sharing it with them for the first time.

Now, of course, you're not going to keep up doing that forever because the Bible is also clear that once you do share the truth with them and they rebuke you or they deny it or reject it and they turn down the Word of God and what the truth is, then you're no longer held responsible for it and you're actually told by Jesus to curse those people, to rebuke those people, and to forsake those people without nothing else to do with them.

That's what Jesus tells us.

Over and over and over in the Bible, it tells us this.

What communion, what friendship does light have with darkness?

Come out from among them.

Do not touch them.

Do not touch the unclean.

Come out from among them and be separate.

The word church in the Greek in the Bible was ekklesia or ekklesia, however you want to pronounce it.

They're both accepted pronunciations.

Men, it means called out and the word sacred means separated.

We're supposed to be saints.

We're supposed to be sacred.

We're supposed to be called out.

Jesus tells us in Revelation 18, verse 4, to come out from herd, to come out from false religion.

Amen.

We're supposed to be separated.

So once a person rejects the truth, we're no longer responsible.

Right here it says in Ezekiel that we're not responsible for them once we have blown the trumpet and they do not correctly respond.

If they don't take action, if they don't take heed, if they don't listen and obey, then the blood is no longer in our hands.

But we have the initial duty and responsibility that we are held accountable for to blow the trumpet, to sound the alarm, to witness to people, even if we're not called to be teachers or preachers.

You don't have to be called to be a preacher or prophet in order to just simply share with your husband or your wife or family or friends simply something like this.

Guess what I saw today?

Guess what I read today?

Guess what I heard today?

And so many women are afraid of leading their women and leading their husbands.

But that's not leading your husband.

That's not teaching your husband.
It's just sharing with your husband.
Honey, guess what I read in the Bible today?
Guess what I read on I Saw the Light Ministries today?
That's not taking authority over him.
That's being loving to share what you read that day, to share what you learned that day.
That's love.
That's not taking authority over him.
Amen?
But if he rejects it, then it's out of your hands, and he's a heathen, and you shouldn't be laying with a heathen.

So, now having said all this, what, Brother Jared?
"I see something interesting."
Okay.
"It's the first day of the 12th month. Look at the page on the left."
Yeah, that's okay.
Hmm.
Hmm.

Let's just take a look at this over here in Ezekiel 32.
Ezekiel 32.
It's interesting that Brother Jared brings this up, that today is the first day of the 12th month, and that is the date written in verse 1 of Ezekiel 32.
Ezekiel 32 verse 1.
Thus saith Jesus, I will also cast over you the nets of many nations, and will bring you up with My hook.
So it's interesting, the word hook there, because that's in Ezekiel 38, that God uses a hook to draw Gog and Magog, Russia and China, to attack Israel and America and the British Empire and Australia and South Africa and so forth.
And it's interesting that river appears, because we're going to start talking right now about the Ohio River in East Palestine, Ohio.
And it's interesting that this is the first day of the 12th month.
And it's interesting also the word serpent being there in verse 2, and we had talked about the serpent in Esther chapter 1.
So there's a lot of different things here that's interesting.
It's a warning too.
There is a warning, a prediction, a prophecy against Egypt.
We know that Daniel, chapter either 11 or chapter 12, one of those places, that it says that Egypt will be invaded by Assad.
So that is the events that are going to occur against Egypt within either those 30 days or shortly before the 30 days apparent.
So there is apparent connection to the attack against Israel, the judgment against Egypt.
I mean the judgment against Egypt is connected with the fulfillment of Purim.
And Passover too.
And Passover is connected because Passover is only 30 days after Purim.
Verse 17 here.
Verse 17 says, And it came to pass in the 12th year in the first month, on the 15th day of the month, the word of Jesus came to me.

Verse 17, the 15th day of the first month, that is Passover.
That's very interesting.
Egypt punished on Passover.
So we'll read some more of that later.
I don't want to get too deep in that.
It's just interesting that we're seeing that.
Okay, because there is a Purim and a Passover connection with the destruction and the judgment against Egypt.
And that's what we're seeing there.
And we're talking about Purim.
We're coming up very close to Passover as well.

And this is when I was wanting to start talking about the Ohio River and East Palestine, Ohio. Now the word Palestine, we know, is the word that the Nazis and Arabs and Muslims try to call the land of Israel. They try to call it Palestine because they don't want to call it Israel because they don't want to admit and confess that it is the nation of Israel and that the Israelites, the Jews, have the right to the land. So they try to call the Middle East that region of land. They call it Palestine. And they try to say that the Palestinians have a right to that land. But they don't. The majority of Palestinians are Egyptians and Saudi Arabians and Jordanians. That's who they are. That's who they are. The Palestinians are people from or have a heritage or a bloodline from Egypt and Saudi Arabia or Jordan and surrounding areas. They are not Palestinians or Palestinian Palestinians. But there is a connection to the ancient bloodline of the Philistines. Absolutely. They are the descendants of the Philistines. And we know that the Philistines is one of the archenemies of Israel and that they wanted the land. They wanted the land of Israel.

Now, in Ohio, the state of Ohio, in the United States, there's a little tiny town called East Palestine. And a couple weeks ago, there was a train wreck derailment. That means the train's coming off the track. A train wreck train derailment in that town of East Palestine, Ohio. That's very close to the Pennsylvania state border. That's near Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Ohio, Lake Erie. That is the region that we are talking about. It was a huge explosion. Now, the explosion itself was not natural and was not a natural result of the train wreck. But rather, they actually admit that they blew it up on purpose.

They actually confessed that they did that.

They say that you had all these toxic chemicals and that it was going to be too difficult to clean it up and that they had to expose of these chemicals very, very, very quickly before it got into the water and the ground worse than what it already was, stuff like that, so that they chose to actually burn it away as being a very quick way of removing the chemicals, just burning it.

So they set it on fire on purpose, and I've seen a picture where it looked like a nuclear cloud. I'm not saying it was nuclear.

I don't believe that it was nuclear.

I don't believe that there's any nuclear connection physically with it, maybe foreshadowing because it looked like a nuclear cloud, but not actually nuclear.

But it was huge, and that's how huge of an explosion it was, going many miles up into the atmosphere.

So, and this was very dangerous, very toxic chemicals, very, very dangerous chemicals.

So that pollution, or the toxic poison, is not going to affect only that small town because the explosion went so far up into the atmosphere that would have taken this toxic poison into the jet stream, into the upper atmosphere of the Earth to be dispersed through the very high winds that are up there in that level of the atmosphere to be spread, really, all across the world when you get that high up in the atmosphere, you would have a fallout, a contamination of the entire Earth with these toxic chemicals.

This affects everybody on Earth to some extent.

So I would recommend that everyone increase their measure of natural remedies, all natural, pure lemon juice, dandelion, and these natural remedies that flush out poisons from the body, a detox.

You don't have to fast, I'm not saying fasting, because there's many ways of detoxing your body.

Fasting is not the only way of detoxing.

But lemon juice and dandelion, taking dandelion out of the yard, digging it up from the ground, and dandelion grows everywhere on Earth.

Every nation on Earth has dandelion.

You might have to leave the urban city, you might have to leave the desert to find dandelion, but it grows all over the Earth.

Dig it up out of the ground, prepare a tea, make a tea out of it, and drink that to help detox you and other herbs you can buy.

You can buy dandelion that has been dried out on the Internet that was already picked before the explosion.

That would be very wise as well.

People need to stock up on natural remedies like this before an event occurs, so that you already have it at home.

You already have it picked out of the ground before it gets contaminated.

It's very important for people to prepare in advance, and far in advance, as much as possible.

And everybody says, I can't afford it, I can't afford it, I can't afford it.

But yet, they're going out buying this, buying that, buying a candy bar, buying a snack cake, buying a soda drink, whatever, when you could take that money, all the junk food you're buying, all the junk computers and junk everything else, people buying and spending on entertainment and luxuries, and take that same money, save it up to buy supplies, herbs, natural remedies, so you have it in stock.

Amen.

I really believe that even the most poor, even the most poor, can afford something in a natural remedy to, or other things in food and supplies.

If they are wise with their investments, if they're wise with their money, if they're wise with what they buy, where they buy things, the price, considering the price, comparing different stores, comparing different markets.

Too many people just go to the nearest market.

Too many people just go to the nearest store, not caring really what the price is.

Sometimes it's worth going all the way to the other side of town to a much cheaper store to get what you need to save that money.

It depends on the price about whether it's worth the extra travel or not, but you can take that into consideration.

Most people never take any such thing into consideration.

They're too lazy.

But getting back to the Ohio explosion, in addition to the atmosphere, it entered into the river there, which being in that particular state, you would have the rivers flowing to the south and to the east.

From there, that goes into West Virginia and Virginia and Kentucky, eventually Tennessee and so forth, and on down into the Mississippi River and the Gulf of Mexico.

So this would be everybody south and east of Ohio.

Now, there's a lot of ridiculous videos and claims on the internet, but we've got to use some common sense of where the water would be contaminated would be mostly south and east.

That's how the rivers flow.

Of course, the atmosphere contamination would have maybe been taken up in some rain and fallen.

Again, the rain systems, the water systems, would still go south and east.

So if we see claims of California, that's bull crap.

Even though you're going to have it in the atmosphere worldwide, it's going to be much greatly reduced by the time it gets to California or China or whatever.

It's going to be much greatly, much, much, much greatly reduced by the time it is spread across the globe.

Now, here's the amazing part and the surprising part is that just last year, they made a movie on Netflix about the very exact event that just occurred.

And you heard that right before it happened, before it happened.

Netflix made a movie last year, 2022, called White Noise.

That's the name of the movie, White Noise.

And it was about a train wreck in Ohio that would explode and contaminate and poison the people.

And the actors in the movie, some of them were actual citizens of that specific town, East Palestine, Ohio.

They filmed it in Ohio, using people from that town.

About a train wreck, about an explosion, about contamination, about poisoning the people.

So basically, what you have here is Hollywood and Netflix, and Netflix is a very blasphemous network.

I don't know why anybody would subscribe to that channel.

It's ridiculous.

People have no discernment.

People have no integrity and honor.

And when they find out things like this, they refuse to boycott and they refuse to cancel their subscriptions, thinking that all they're doing is watching entertainment.

It's innocent.

All I'm doing is watching movies.

I'm not doing nothing wrong.

Every excuse in the book to not boycott satanic companies like Disney, Walt Disney, which is a very satanic company, and other things.

People don't like boycotting because they're all about being entertained and eating and so forth, and they don't want to boycott anything thinking they're not doing anything wrong because they're not taking the time to truly examine themselves.

They're not taking the time and the effort and the energy to truly examine God's will on anything unless it involves how they can save money and make money.

That's the only time that they try to care about God, and really they don't.

If they really cared about God, they would be spending time and effort asking God's will about demonic situations outside of maintaining their money.

Now this movie named White Noise.

I did watch it the other day.

I did not give any money to Netflix.

I have not subscribed to Netflix, but it is my duty and my responsibility to watch the movie so that I know what it's about so that I can teach about it and warn people about it because it is a prediction, a prophecy of what occurred.

It has significance to everybody on this planet.

It has significance for this ministry, for you, for me.

It has significance because it is basically the New World Order telling us in advance what they're going to do.

Very clearly this movie declares that they're going to do this, that they did do this.

It is a confession, a public confession of the New World Order that they did not only blow it up on purpose, which they confessed, but they even did the train wreck on purpose.

It was not a natural accident, but rather even the train wreck, the initial train wreck was on purpose.

The movie is a confession of that.

Having watched the movie, I know that the New World Order, which I already knew this, the New World Order is a Nazi organization.

It is against the Jews and it is against Israel and against America and against American citizens.

That's why they want to kill American citizens.

That's why they want you to hate the Jews.

It is why they teach that the Jews are the children of Satan and the children of King.

It is why there is propaganda against the nation of Israel and propaganda against America and propaganda against NATO.

It is why they want you to admire the president of Russia, Putin, Vladimir Putin, because they want you to be on their side, anti-American, anti-freedom, anti-capitalism, anti-British empire, anti-white, anti-man, male, anti-family, anti-Jew, anti-Israel, anti-Christian, anti-God.

This is their goal, is to brainwash you and program you like a robot, like a computer chip, and to literally hook you up to computer chips in your brain, in other words, in your body, to control you like a robot.
But it starts with brainwashing, so that the people that they cannot chip is still controlled through the brainwashing, through many different ways.
TV, the movies, society, music, magazines, the news, the mainstream news, so on, YouTube, Google, and the list is endless.

They chose the town of East Palestine on purpose to do the train wreck.
They could have chosen any town in America or the world.
But because the name of that town is East Palestine, they chose to do the explosion and the train wreck there because of the name of that town, because that town, called East Palestine, that would bring into your mind, and into their mind, East Palestine, meaning East Jerusalem, which is claimed by Syria.
It's claimed by Syria.
East Jerusalem is claimed by Syria.
And the United Nations have more than once declared that East Jerusalem does not belong to Israel, but rather belongs to Syria.
That's a serious accusation.
And not only an accusation, but the United Nations has proclaimed this as a fact when it's not a fact at all.

Amen?
God gave all of Israel and all of what they call Palestine and beyond that to the Israelites, including the tribe of the Jews and other tribes of Israel, including America.
We own that land because God gave us that land.
So I do not understand why people who think they are saved and think they have read the Bible and think that they are Christians and call themselves Christians can't answer the question when I ask them, Does Israel have the right to the land of Israel?
Does Israel have the right to be a nation and to the land of Israel?
And most people, most so-called Christians, can't answer that question.
They're like, Well, I don't know. I don't know.
I've not studied the issue or even some other would even answer no because they've been programmed by Democrat churches, Democrat government, Democrat liberal communism through magazines, mainstream media, CNN, BBC, Sky News.
The list is endless of all the different instruments that's being used to program and brainwash the people against Israel.
And who is behind all of that is the Arab Islamic nations and Russia and China, the communist and Nazi nation, communist and Islamic nations.
What is Nazism?
Nazism is a belief, a hatred against Israel.
That's what it is.
So communist nations, they are Nazi.
Islamic nations, they are Nazi.
The Democrat party in the United States and the Democrat party across the world, anywhere where you see that word Democrat or Democratic inside the party, that is Nazi.
It is Nazi.

Nazism is still alive.
It did not die with Hitler.
And they chose the name of this town to be in East Palestine as a Nazi code word for Israel.

All right.

So let me see.

White Noise is the name of the movie.

Okay, I've already explained why they chose that town, the name East Palestine.

But now I want to talk about the name of the movie, White Noise.

What is White Noise?

What is White Noise?

The definition of White Noise is something that distracts you.

A distracting disturbance or commotion or sound or activity or event or propaganda that is meant to distract you from something else.

That is called White Noise, especially if that noise or event is more pleasing than what it is distracting you from.

So that's why it's called White Noise as if it is good noise.

It is a pleasing noise.

It is noise that you put on to go to sleep.

That's what they call White Noise.

So if you need the sound of a heater or a fan running at night to help you sleep, that is called White Noise.

It is a sound that is more pleasing, but it is still a sound or activity.

It is a commotion, a motion of something that distracts you from something less welcoming, less pleasing, which would be stress, worry or a troublesome event or not sleeping.

It distracts you from not sleeping.

So you can get your attention on the sound of the fan to settle your nerves.

Applying that to events of the world and propaganda and New World Order propaganda and news and world events.

The White Noise is everything in life, entertainment, and that's very clear in this movie, TV, movies, entertainment, that distracts you from the worries of life.

And they use that for their own purpose.

There's nothing wrong with us wanting to be entertained.

That's not a sin, as long as we're careful about what we choose to use for entertainment.

But neither do we have to be overly legalistic either.

We need the right balance in everything in life.

But there is White Noise that the New World Order uses within entertainment to distract us, as well as the world events, things that they use to distract us.

And sometimes that White Noise is not as pleasing, but it is still distracting.

And then there's the theme of car crashes, airplane crashes, other explosions throughout the movie as well.

Also throughout the movie there is an admiration of Hitler. Nazism. It is very pro-Nazi. Sorry, it's very blatant. The movie is very blatant pro-Nazi.

So very clearly, East Palestine was definitely chosen on purpose, the connection of the name.

The movie is a blatant public confession that they, on purpose, that did the explosion and the wreck.

And there are many things that we can learn from the movie, even though the movie is extremely weird.

It's a very, very weird movie.

But that doesn't make it a bad movie, as far as I found myself to be very entertaining.

And that shows that they will use entertainment.

They will use entertainment.

They use Hollywood, and especially Netflix and Disney, to send subliminal messaging.

And you definitely, if you watch the movie, you need to pray before you watch it, and as you're watching it, and after you finish watching it.

I said recently, that's what we need to do before watching videos, and especially videos like this, where there is very clear subliminal messaging, very obviously throughout the movie, as well as very blatant messages throughout the movie as well.

I find it to be a good movie, an entertaining movie, but very weird movie, and a piece of propaganda, as well as a confession.

Now, one of the interesting things is, if we were to read the writings of the communists, the Russians, the Chinese, how they plan to destroy America and Israel and the British Empire, how they plan to destroy the Israelites worldwide and our allies, they blatantly declare over and over throughout history, in many different books written by communist people, they blatantly profess that one of their tactics would be propaganda and the infiltration of government and of Hollywood and of movies and of entertainment and of music and of churches and schools and every area of society.

Amen.

But also, that as it becomes closer to the actual invasion of America, that they would start blowing things up.

They blatantly have confessed this many times throughout history that Russia and China would eventually blow things up in America across the land, across the entire nation, many different explosions, that that would be in the later stages as it gets closer to the invasion.

Now, there are many reports of a lot of different train wrecks across America right now and factories blowing up across the world, especially in the United States and American allies and even in China.

Now, some of this is just coincidence and some of this is just the natural routine of life.

I discovered that actually there are four or five or so train wrecks in America every day, every day consistently, every day after day after day there are four or five or six train wrecks across America.

It's very clear that the American infrastructure of the train tracks and so forth, that that is crumbling, that it is decaying, that it needs fixed, that that is an infrastructure problem, because of the Democrats.

But it is also ironic that it is the train industry that is involved in this explosion.

And it is the train industry that was heavily involved and responsible for the American Civil War in the late 1800s.

It is also the train industry in the 1800s and early 1900s that was heavily involved in the assassination of good people across America and the theft of their land and their property, the murder of their parents, their dads, their sons, their children, the robbery of the people, and that is why Jesse James and Billy the Kid, may God rest their soul and bless their souls, that is why Billy the Kid and Jesse James and Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kids and those other so-called outlaws had to take matters into their own hands and help the people.

And that's exactly what they did.

They've been labeled as criminals and murderers, but that is because they have rewritten history for people to idolize the criminals like Abraham Lincoln and Nelson Mandela and Martin Luther King Jr. who were all communists, every one of those.

Abraham Lincoln was a communist, Nelson Mandela in South Africa, he was a communist and he was a traitor and he was a terrorist and a racist and so many other things and Martin Luther King who was very anti-Jesus, very anti-Christ and very much a communist and a terrorist and a divider causing strife in America.

So history has been rewritten to cause people to hate the good guys and love the bad guys, to call evil good and call good evil.

That is the way the world is and that's the way you can expect in the world.

When you look at the news, when you look at the history books, when you look at what they teach the children in school, when you look at what they teach people in college and university and in mainstream media, if they say somebody's good, I can guarantee you they're bad and if they say that they're bad, I can guarantee you they're good.

They call good evil and this is the way it's been for decades.

This is nothing new.

This is nothing new.

Bad people have always criminalized the good.

Amen.

Let's see.

I want to make this short because everybody seems like, at least what it appears like, everybody's leaving, I know I've talked forever and talked forever and talked forever, but there's so many things that need to be said.

Somebody's got to say this.

Somebody's got to say it.

Okay.

Now, are the current explosions what I just said?

Because I just said that the communists have always declared that just before the invasion they're going to start blowing things up.

Maybe this is what we're seeing, but I think mostly, I think not.

I think what we're seeing is mostly just your natural pattern of life that there are train derailments in America.

Brothers, you in South Africa, there you are.

Thank you for sending a heart so that I know that you are listening.

Thank you.

So I think that what we're seeing mostly, for the most part, I know some of it is New World Order stuff, but I think what we're seeing is mostly the natural routine of life and things intensifying.

So I don't, you know, I could be wrong on this, but I don't think that the Purim will be fulfilled this year.

We only have two weeks to Purim.

And what we don't see, what we're missing, that we need to see for Purim to be fulfilled whenever it's going to be fulfilled in the next year or two or whenever, what we need to see and will be seeing is a lot of American ships, battleships, headed towards Syria and a buildup of the military in the Middle East.

Not just the Ukraine and China and things like that, but Syria, statistically.
Also, I don't think we're seeing enough activity with Egypt and Libya in that region.
I think that there's biblical reason why we need to see much more activity than what we're seeing with Egypt and Libya and Syria, those specific regions and wars and battles.
And earthquakes and famines and hurricanes.
We've got all this, but...
So I think what we're seeing is only increasing, but not actually going to be fulfilled this year.

Now, anything could change within two weeks.
It only takes one second.
One second is all you need for everything to change.
Two weeks is plenty of time for a lot of stuff to change dramatically.
But I don't really believe at this point that we're going to see Purim fulfilled this year.
When I say Purim fulfilled, I mean the abomination of desolation in heaven.
2 Thessalonians 2, what we call the Antichrist, manifesting himself in the appearance of trying to appear like God, calling himself God in public, on the news, all of these things, I don't think that's going to be fulfilled yet this year until the Purim of next year or the next.
I think next year is a very strong possibility, but also the year after that is a very strong possibility.

However, we are also seeing many other foreshadowings.
We're talking about foreshadowings today.
And recently I saw a Congresswoman called Marjorie Greene or Marjorie, however you pronounce that, Marjorie Greene, I think.
Her last name is Greene.
She's calling for her words, quote, national divorce.
What does that mean?
That means civil war.
This is a woman in Congress calling for civil war and calling for a separation of states to leave the union.
This is the type of talk that you would have seen before the American Civil War, separation, talking of separation.
We've actually heard such talk for many years, but it's increasing with more people in Congress and more outspoken people in Congress to more publicly declare such words.
And I'm all for it because we need to separate from the wicked.
The Bible tells us to do that.
And the American Constitution gives us the right to separate from the union, that the states have free will, that the states, each individual state inside the United States has its own ability to pass its own laws.
Every state in the United States has its own, basically a state Congress, senators and representatives for their own state within their own state, a state capital of their own state, and their ability to make their own laws and even to declare the federal laws void for their state.
They have a constitutional right to do that and to separate from the union.
George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, such men, Benjamin Franklin, such men, they gave us and passed down to us a written legal right to do this.
And it is needful.
It is needful to separate ourselves from such.

And it's very possible that we will see, could see possibly, such civil war in America within these next year or two.

I'm not saying absolutely, I'm saying there is such possibility.

Another thing we're seeing in the foreshadowings in these past few weeks is that Russia sent nuclear-capable ships into the Black Sea for the first time.

We also saw both Russia and China claiming that Biden ordered the explosion of the Russian oil pipeline.

This is significant.

This is very, very hugely significant.

This is very significant, is that Russia and China is claiming that Biden ordered the explosion, the attack against the Russian oil pipeline.

That's huge news.

That should be on the news every day.

That's huge.

That's nothing to ignore.

That's huge.

That is such a huge prophetic picture, a foreshadowing, something that is increasing, that we're getting closer and closer to the actual beginning of the actual Great Tribulation.

This is something that should wake every one of you up to make you realize that the Great Tribulation is not ten years away, or fifteen or twenty-five, or nothing like that.

It's very, very close.

So, if the Great Tribulation does not begin this spring, then I firmly believe it's the next year or two, and not any longer than that.

Because that's huge.

And Russia even called for an emergency meeting of the United Nations Security Council to investigate this explosion to see if it was an attack of the United States against Russia.

This is huge.

This should wake you up.

We also saw the entertainment of the Chinese spy balloon.

Boy, that was entertainment, wasn't it?

The Chinese spy balloon.

Was America shooting down birds and weather instruments and everything that passed?

Were they shooting at shadows in the clouds?

We saw it go back and forth, up and down, left and right.

We saw that entertainment, that news, that part of the play, that part of the movie being played.

What entertainment?

And I guarantee you it was all planned.

And chaos and confusion planned by the New World Order.

Biden and Trump both planned their parts in this movie.

I don't believe that Trump is completely innocent.

I believe he is part of the New World Order.

I believe he is part of the Freemasons or the Illuminati or whoever, different groups in the New World Order.

He plays his part very well as a comedian.

He plays his part very well.

I still support a lot of his policies and the things he did as president, and I do believe he's still the president of the United States and that he won the election, but that doesn't void the fact that he's part of the New World Order and playing his part.

But Biden is much worse playing his part in that.

They're just playing parts, and they both do a good play.

But that Chinese Spy Balloon, that's just part of a movie that we're watching.

And then finally, as we come to a close now, the truth about the fake vaccines, what they call vaccines, which were not vaccines at all, they actually had to redefine the word vaccine in order to call it a vaccine.

It's not a vaccine.

Actually, the redefining of words, that was predicted, that that would be part of their plot, and that's what we're seeing them do by the Democrat Party, the Nazis, left and right every day, changing the definition of words constantly, consistently.

It's ridiculous. It's lunacy.

And that's how you know you're on the wrong side.

If you're on the side that keeps having to redefine words, then you're on the side or you're on the wrong side.

You will be held responsible for being a Democrat and taking the side of baby murderers and Nazis.

So the truth about the vaccines is coming out more and more and more.

Many more doctors are finally speaking up verbally, publicly, posting constantly, consistently, posting against the vaccines, coming out and speaking very strongly and publicly against the vaccines.

More and more doctors, more and more government officials, more and more nations, more and more magazines, more and more news media outlets are speaking up against the vaccines.

So the New World Order, at some point of time, could say, this is it, we're losing control of the people.

We need to release a much more dangerous vaccine and a much more dangerous virus and a much more dangerous war and new laws to get control of the people.

Because they're only willing to let go of so much control before they will stamp down on everything and trample down on the people.

So that's a dangerous situation.

We're living in dangerous times.

Even though I don't believe the great tribulation is going to start this year, don't be deceived.

This year is not going to be easy just because the great tribulation might not start this year.

And it could start this year.

I'm just saying I don't think it will.

This is not thus saith the Lord that it will or that it won't.

I'm just sharing my thoughts.

This is not thus saith the Lord about exactly when it's going to start.

Even though it is thus saith the Lord that it will start at Purim, and Passover of some year.

But as far as a year itself, I'm not saying thus saith the Lord.

So we're talking about things we're seeing leading forward the future fulfillment of Purim of a future year.

And all these things continue to increase.

And even though the great tribulation might not start this year, it will be a very troublesome and dangerous year.

And that calls for a reaction from the people.

If we see the sword coming, not only am I held responsible for warning you and telling you what I see, and this is why I give a list of telling you what I see, all the signs, all the symptoms, all the things that are leading up to the tribulation, how they are increasing as we get toward Purim.

And we notice every year at this time of year, there is this increase leading up to Purim consistently year after year after year after year.

It is this season of time leading up to the date of Purim that things explode more intensely, more often than the summertime.

Even though you could have a huge event in the summer, but it intensifies and everything is closer together.

It's like bam, bam, bam, bam, bam, bam, when you get closer to Purim every year.

We have saw in different years, huge events and huge foreshadowings actually own the date of Purim.

And we could see that again this year.

And even though I have the responsibility of warning you what I'm seeing, you also have the responsibility to heed, to listen and obey to the voice of God, to seek the Lord about what you can and should do according to His will, how to prepare extra remedies, natural remedies, how to find dandelion, how to find other alternative remedies if you can't find dandelion, lemons and oranges, apple cider vinegar, turmeric, different things, cinnamon, different spices, different herbs, that are good to strengthen and protect your immune system, to strengthen your immune system against viruses that will continue to increase as well, and to defend yourself, how to defend yourself, and also how to be more courageous, because you're going to need more courage as this world intensifies in evil.

You need more courage, both men and women, but especially the men need more courage. I'm going to tell you something.

Back when I was a kid, I remember walking in the housing project, public government housing project, and it was a very dangerous time back then in that particular location.

The government public housing project, it was rough, tough, and dangerous.

Those people often, not rarely, but often breaking into people's houses at night and robbing people and killing people, shooting people and raping old women, and everything.

It was very violent in that neighborhood in that day and time.

But my grandmother, already at that time of my childhood, being an older woman and being a widow, that her husband died, still walked her grandchildren, me and my brother, in that neighborhood without fear.

And I was taught by my grandmother, a widow without a husband anymore, and my young brother and myself, well, he was three years older than myself, but we were both just little, little, little boys.

And from that age up, being taught, walk, don't show fear.

Don't let these people know that you fear.

Hold your head up, walk strong, walk boldly, and walk as you are someone rather than a dog, rather than a cat that is paranoid of every little thing that moves.

Everybody in that neighborhood knew my grandmother, and everybody knew that she carried a gun.

And everybody loved her, liked her, respected her, and honored her.

That doesn't make her masculine in a negative sense, but it did make her what the Bible uses of the word that refers to courageous and strong, and is many times translated as manly, but it is not a gender dysfunction.

It is not a sin.

It is not a corruption of her gender or of her gender role, but rather it is the mentality and the natural way of things of the way that you need to survive, whether you're a man or a woman. How to survive in a dangerous world.

Amen.

And that is necessary for both men and women, and it was necessary then and it's necessary now.

Amen.

And when you allow the criminals and the wicked people to see that you're afraid of them, to see your fear, and for you to act in a cowardly, cowardly manner, that strengthens their domination.

That strengthens their control over you, and it makes you more of a victim.

And that is what is wrong with some of the neighborhoods is that people have allowed themselves to become victims and they have allowed their neighborhoods to be victimized by not standing strong and bold against the criminals.

And this is more on the hands of men than it is women.

Of course, men are supposed to be the protectors and the defenders of liberty and the defenders of what is right and the defenders of the neighborhood and of the nation and of the town and of the city and of the family unit.

So men need to learn how to walk and to talk and to act in a masculine, ultra-masculine, not just manly, not just courageous like the woman should be, but alpha masculinity.

The man, the men, the boys need to grow up and grow a set of balls.

Amen?

And be alpha male and bold and courageous and stand up against the wicked.

And if you get all the men of the community to do that, you can take back your neighborhoods.

There are organizations that have that purpose.

Join the organization, join hands with other men and other women in the community that want to take back the neighborhoods.

Be involved in your local organizations that want to take back the neighborhood and want to take back the nation.

Be involved in political parties and organizations and groups and people and citizens that want to do the criminal watch, the neighborhood watch, and other things like that.

Be involved.

I've said it over and over and over, that the reason we have so much evil in this world is because of couch potato Christians that want to do nothing but pray and fast, but not be involved in the politics and the petitions and the organizations, not be involved in marching down the road strong and brave and courageous, not be involved in fighting.

Sometimes you've got to fight when you're a man.

Sometimes you've got to fight when you're a man.

Amen?

There's a song by Kenny Rogers back when I was a kid, a country song. I love country music. And Kenny Rogers, one of the great country music singers, and one of his songs, one of the lyrics, part of the lyrics, says that you don't always have to fight to be a man, but sometimes, sometimes a man has to fight.

Amen?

And one thing I have found in life is that when you actually stand up to them, they no longer want to fight.

They will back down because they respect courage.

They do.

The gangs, the thugs, New York City, Chicago, Atlanta, you can go to the worst places in the world and you can learn, you can see that actually they respect courage.

And when they see that you're a victim, they take advantage of that, and they see you as a weakling, and they see you as a target, and they do not respect you.

But when you show courage, they respect that, and they back away from you, and they honor you, and they will lift you up.

Amen.

People are responsible for their own families and their own neighborhoods and their own nations.

Absolutely.

Amen.

People in Cuba, they need to join the resistance to overthrow that government.

Amen.

People in South Africa, they need to join the resistance against that Communist African National Party, whatever it's called.

They need to join the resistance to overthrow that.

I'm all for civil war in America because it is our responsibility to overthrow dictators and wicked people.

It was our responsibility as Americans to overthrow Hitler and the British Empire and their influence overthrowing Hitler.

And it was our responsibility to go into Iraq and Afghanistan to overthrow those nations and to take control of those nations.

The problem was, the problem was, is that the presidents and the military generals and people, mostly the presidents, they didn't have big enough balls to actually conquer the people and maintain their control over those people and those nations to a strong extent, to have real lasting peace and real lasting control over those people.

That's biblical.

That's what they should have done.

Instead of fleeing Afghanistan and instead of fleeing Iraq, they should have conquered them with a fist of iron.

That's what I respected about the Egyptian president that's dead now, that they overthrew unrighteously, President Mubarak of Egypt when he was alive.

Pretty sure he's dead now.

I respected him even though he was a Muslim leader because he ruled with a fist of iron and made peace treaties with Israel and America and he was allies of Israel and America.

And also he was allies with the apostle Herbert W. Armstrong who was the apostle of this ministry and this church way back then from the 1930s up to the 1986 or so before I eventually became the apostle of this ministry and this church.

So he met with President Mubarak of Egypt, Mr. Apostle Armstrong.
He went there multiple times with him, sat and talked to him face to face.
And yes, he was Babylonian, being a Muslim, but he ruled his nation in righteousness in many aspects, having the Nazi party outlawed, having the Communist party outlawed, having the Muslim Brotherhood outlawed.
He ruled correctly in many aspects.
So he was deserving of a certain measure of honor.
I have no problem honoring people when they deserve it.
When they don't deserve it, absolutely not.

Okay, I'm going to let you all go.

The chat room is open for questions before we completely hang up.

Brother Jared, you can think about anything you want to say and if anybody that has signed in and registered into Mixlr, if you want to ask any questions specifically about anything I have said, if it's on another topic, please hold it back for e-mail or MeWe or Telegram or something. But if it's a question about anything I have talked about today, please feel free to ask your questions now and type it into the room.

Brother Jared, what you got to add?

"I have one thing regarding the train crash and explosion. The trains were carrying a chemical. I didn't investigate this thing, but I read over and over, that the trains were carrying a chemical used as a gas during World War I or World War II."

Oh, that reminds me.

I saw last night that they're now telling the citizens of that town, East Palestine, Ohio, to throw away their beds and all their clothes, their couches, anything made of cloth, anything that could be penetrated by air or water.

If it's something that would soak up water, paper towels, toilet paper, clothes, couches, beds, these are things that would soak up water.

Not that water touched it, but rather if water can be soaked up by it, then so would it also soak up these chemicals out of the air and to throw all your clothes away, your beds, everything. And they're telling these people that it's safe to live there, it's safe to stay there, that you don't have to leave.

You can actually return back home if you left and you're not in danger of drinking the water. They're telling you, you can't drink the water, but if you own anything in your home that could be soaked by water, it is soaking the chemicals from the air, and that you should throw it away.

But you're safe to drink the water, and you're safe to live there and to breathe the air.

Have you ever heard such bull crap?

It's lunacy, it's lunatic.

And they're saying, don't go into your basement.

If you have a basement, don't go into your basement because the ground is so penetrated with these chemicals that you could actually die of poisoning just by walking into your basement.

But you can stay upstairs, you're fine.

Drink the water, breathe the air.

Crazy stuff, crazy stuff.

There's no way I would live there.

And there's people there, there's people staying.

Why would you stay?

I'd be getting out of town, I'd be getting out of Dodge, as the old saying goes.

People are stupid, and they deserve to die if they're that stupid.

There's no way I would live there if I had to hitchhike, if I had to jump on a train to leave town, if I had to hide on a bus, if I had to hide on an airplane, if I had to walk down the street on my own bare feet to get out of that town with no money and no food, I would do it.

I would not stay in that town, or even the next town next to it I wouldn't stay in.

And yet they want to stay, they stay there, they stay there, they're sleeping there, they're living there.

Bullcrap!

It might sound unloving, but I'm just going to say it the way it is, it takes a stupid-ass person to stay.

And these events like this are separating the intelligent people from the stupid people.

Just to be honest, just to be fully, fully, fully honest with you.

This is the way God sees it, it really is the way God sees it, because God respects wisdom.

God honors wisdom.

And He hates stupidity and foolishness.

He does, absolutely.

It's ridiculous how people are so tied to their hometowns and never leave their hometown ever in their life.

It's ridiculous, it's ridiculous.

All right, anything else?

Okay, I think that's it.

I'll let you all go, I'll see you the seventh day of the week.

See you then.

And I hope that this sermon in some way has helped you to understand where we are in world events and to encourage people that have not yet begun to prepare to prepare and maybe help some people grow in a measure of wisdom or a measure of understanding.

I hope that it has helped you in some way.

All of this in Jesus' name, Amen.
