

Full Sermon Transcript: The Soul and Spirit are 2 Different Things

Turn to the book of 1 Thessalonians 5, 1 Thessalonians chapter 5, verse 23.

And for those that might be listening for the first time, we're reading from the Alpha and Omega Bible, a restoration of the original scriptures used in the Dead Sea Scrolls, the Codex, Sinaiticus and Vaticanus, Alexandrinus, other Codexes, other manuscripts, the oldest manuscripts, even older than the manuscripts that the King James was based upon, restoring the scriptures to the way they were before the corruption scrapped in from the Roman Catholic Church and from the Protestant Church.

It's a long journey, it continues to be perfected, we'll continue to work on the translation adding more notes, more cross references as well, continually, a lot of work still yet to be done.

Here in 1 Thessalonians 5, verse 23, it says, may now may the Theos, which is the Greek word for God, and for those that are listening for the first time, or maybe you started listening last week or so, but I didn't explain it yet last week, is that the Greek word here, Theos, is pronounced The-us by the professors, the people that speak, the people that speak Greek, the Greek people, the Bible scholars and so forth, they will all tell you it's The-us rather than Theos.

However, the fact is there is much debate among the so-called experts of ancient languages about the connotation and spelling and the meanings, the definitions of multitudes of ancient words, ancient languages, the understanding thereof is not written in concrete, it is not solid, it is absolutely room for debate, there is debate, much debate, and so it's not the way most people think, most people think, whatever you read in the commentaries of the Bible, that's the way it is and that's the way it must be, but actually behind the scenes the experts debate among themselves, they're not in agreement, and my own personal research into the ancient languages convinced me that it is not Theos but Theo, amen. So I just want you to understand that when I say Theos it's not out of ignorance but based upon research, it's the Greek word for God.

And may the Theos, the God of peace, himself sanctify you entirely, all of you, wholly, w-h-o-l-l-y, that may your spirit and soul and body, notice how it says spirit and soul and body, be preserved complete without blame at or unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, Jesus the Christ, it should say.

Spirit and soul are both listed separately, that is the topic today, is that the spirit and the soul are two different things, most people believe it's the one and the same, but it's actually two different things, now we do know that the word and sometimes in scripture in Greek can and sometimes should be translated as saying as or namely or in other words, but in this particular case I'm going to give you some other Bible verses that I believe will prove to us that it's not, that in this case it does not mean the same as, but rather truly the way we think of the word and in English as being two different things and what the difference is.

Before we do that let's look at the Greek words here for spirit and soul, the word spirit here is Greek word Strong's Concordance number 4151, Pneuma, the P is silent even though it is spelled P-N-E-U-M-A, just imagine that the P is not there and you see Pneuma, spirit, that's the word that is written for the Holy Spirit and the Holy Ghost and many other instances of the word spirit throughout the Bible, but the word soul here is Greek Strong's Concordance number 5590 and the word there, the Greek word is psyche as in psychiatrist, your psyche, two different Greek words and we'll talk about the difference between those two and we will verify and make for sure that our understanding is correct going through many different scriptures not just one.

Let's look at Hebrews 4 verse 12

the book of Hebrews chapter 4 verse 12, that's right there before James page 235 if you have the paperback of the Alpha and the Omega Bible, Hebrews 4 verse 12, for the word of Theos is living and active and sharper than any two-edged sword and piercing as far as the division of soul and spirit of both joints and marrow, bone marrow and are able to judge the thoughts and intentions of their hearts, notice it says division of soul and spirit that makes it even more clear that they are two different things not the one in the same so it's not namely or in other words but truly the way we think of the word and today in English two different things, let's go to Matthew 10 verse 28 page 17 in the paperbacks of the Alpha and Omega Bible published by I saw the light ministries, Matthew 10 verse 28 do not fear those who murder the body but are unable to kill the soul but rather fear him who is able to completely destroy both soul and body in Gehenna, the valley of Hinnom, the lake of fire.

Now here you don't see the both soul and spirit but it will help us to understand something about the word soul here and what the truth is on another topic as well related to it, do not fear those who murder the body but are unable to kill the soul but rather fear him who is able to completely destroy both soul and body in the lake of fire.

This tells us that the soul is not immortal but rather can and will be destroyed completely destroyed in the lake of fire for the wicked people that do not repent that is direct opposite of traditional religion that says that your soul will live forever in the lake of fire and will not be destroyed but rather that you are an immortal soul forever, complete opposite of what the Bible says, traditional religion and the Bible are two different things they contradict one another so this is just one of the instances where we see the word soul now again this is Greek 5590 Psyche.

Now before we go any further let's go ahead and explain these two different differences so as we keep reading you'll be able to apply it in your understanding.

Psyche if you think about it's the word for the basis the root word of psychiatrist

So Psyche is your mind if you have mental illness you have mental problems

If you have emotional problems some people go to a counselor or psychiatrist or take psychiatric medicines.

So this is talking about your mind your mind is your personality your character.

It is who you really are. It is your way of thinking. It is your free will. It's your plans, your desires, your will, your thinking, your reasoning, your understanding.

It is you. It's what makes you different from everybody else.

It's different from spirit because everybody really shares the same Spirit of God.

We can even think back to Genesis chapter one and chapter two, the recreation of the earth after it had been destroyed and sat in the ice age and had been destroyed by meteors whatever and had sat frozen for perhaps millions of year.

God brooded over the surface of the earth, melted the waters.

Genesis says in the original paleo-Hebrew that he melted the waters and the vapors came up as the ice was melting the vapors coming up into the sky separation of the clouds and the ice and the water the heat and light and darkness all became separated and it actually says recreate it in the in the pale Hebrew completely different from traditional religion so God breathed into Adam and he became a living soul the word for spirit Pneuma is breath or wind or air spirit when air breath God breathed into Adam and became a living soul a living personality amen so everybody shares the breath of God even the wicked people have the Spirit of God the breath the air the oxygen the atoms of the air that gives you life in that way all people on earth share the one Spirit of God but everybody has a different soul individually who makes you distinct from everyone else a man your own personality and character and free will that's the difference now of course through 6,000 years of humanity sometimes these two different words have become confused with one another in people's mind frames and vocabulary but if we were to dissect them to determine what they really and truly are this is the difference we'll continue to read and continue to grow in our understanding of this.

Here in the destruction of the wicked the spirit if we apply the differences the spirit of all people the breath of life that is not your knowledge that's just wind that's just oxygen that part is not really you, it's the air is the oxygen so that part is not why it's saying is being destroyed here. But rather it's what makes you a person what makes you distinct from everybody else that's being destroyed here, as well as your flesh. So oxygen will always exist and that air will always exist but that doesn't mean that you're going to know it because that's not you, that's just the wind and that.

But your mind and your knowledge and your ability to think and your ability to feel things to feel love to feel hate to feel sadness and rejoice, all of that is perished in the lake of fire. Amen.

We can go down to verse 39 here verse 39 and he who has found his life will lose it and he who has lost his life for my sake will find it.

Here we find that one of these Greek words is synonymous with life and really they both are in a way it's synonymous with life because both your soul and spirit both, both your psyche and your air your breath of life, they both are requirements for life in the flesh.

As long as you have a fleshly body you have to have both.

So they are both synonymous with life and having life. Amen.

But here the Greek word is psyche. And so this is saying not only that you must be willing to lay down your life for God, a beheading if necessary, if that's what it comes down to, but rather even more.

So it is speaking of you must be you must be willing to give up your own free will and be obedient to God no matter what He says. No matter what He says.

So your psyche is your own mind, your own free will, your own personality, your own character, your own faults, your own understanding. But you must be willing to sacrifice all that lay all that down crucify all that and take on the psyche of God. Take on the mind of God to take on His free will to take on His will, His will for you, His plan, His thoughts, His way of thinking, His way of looking at things, His personality, His desires, His way of looking at things and listening to things, and His way of reasoning.

His thoughts are not our thoughts. Amen. We must be able to we must be willing to get rid of our psyche in order to take on the psyche of God.

If you're depressed, if you're sad, if you're frustrated, then crucify that and take on the mind of God. Amen. Praise the Lord. We need the psyche of God. Amen. We need the psyche of God. Give up your ego. Amen. And take on the mind of the Lamb of God. Give up pride.

Now look at chapter 12 now, Matthew 12 verse 18.

Behold my servant or my child who I've chosen this is we'll go back to verse 17 verse 17 this was to fulfill what was spoken of through the prophet Isaiah in Isaiah 42 verses one through four. Quote, Behold my servant or my child whom I have chosen my beloved in whom my soul is well pleased my psyche is well pleased I will put my spirit my pneuma upon him and he shall proclaim justice to the gentiles. Amen.

So that's a prophecy in Isaiah predicting the life of Jesus Christ, Jesus the Christ, upon the earth. So God says that His mind His psyche is well-pleased, and I will put my breath into him so that he may proclaim justice even to the gentiles. Amen.

You see that there's a difference between the two words there.

Let's go over to 1 Corinthians 15, page 191.

Let's start in verse 40.

Verse 40 says there are also the heavenly bodies and the earthly bodies, but the glory the heavenly is one and the glory of the earthly is another. So there is one glory of the sun and another glory of the moon another glory of the stars, for stars differ from stars in glory.

So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown a perishable body it is raised an imperishable body. It is sown in dishonor it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness but it is raised in power. It is sown a natural body but it is raised a spiritual body.

If there is a natural body there is also a spiritual body. Verse 45.

So also it is written quote in genesis 2 verse 7 that the first man Adam became a living soul, and the last Adam became or was or is a life-giving spirit

Notice it calls Adam that he became a living soul, but the last Adam referring to Jesus is the spirit.

Adam became a living psyche but Jesus is the breath of life that is given to all mankind.

Adam is one man with his own free will, his own thoughts, his own mind. But God Jesus is referred to as as the spirit, the spirit that gives life to all mankind.

All mankind shares the spirit and it is the Spirit of God that gives life to all mankind. He is the life-giving spirit, the life spirit, the life giving breath of life to all mankind.

So it's interesting how it divides it there.

The reality is that even animals have The Holy Spirit and even wicked people have The Holy Spirit, because The Holy Spirit is one being that exists throughout the entire universe: on every planet, on every moon, on every planet, every solar system, every galaxy, in the grave, in the fire, in the stone, in the trees — everything that has life — animals, insects, plants, trees.

Everything that has life has a measure of the Spirit of God, but the trees do not have necessarily a psyche a mind, a mentality.

Amen. That's what sets the trees apart from animals and people who can feel love.

Animals do have a psyche and the spirit both, just like humans, because cats and dogs and even elephants and monkeys, they can feel love and they have memory. It's absolutely proven that monkeys can learn sign language and that monkeys and other animals, even lions and tigers, that after they have been separated from their owners for years and then their owners come back and visit them at the zoo, the animals come up to them and hug them and love on them and kiss them saying I miss you, I love you, I remember you, I remember you.

So animals do have memory and love and fear therefore they have a psyche, which means they have a soul, and then so they have both soul and spirit. But the trees as far as we know as far as we understand do not have a mind and a psyche. But they have spirit because they have life, and the trees do take in and out the oxygen the carbon monoxide the carbon dioxide, so they do have spirit they do have breath. If they didn't have breath, if they didn't breathe in and out, the oxygen and carbon monoxide carbon dioxide and so forth, then they wouldn't have life.

So we understand the difference here.

There's other examples in the New Testament but let's just go ahead over to the Old Testament.

Let's just go over to the Old Testament Ecclesiastes in volume three the wisdom books the song and wisdom book, Ecclesiastes is after proverbs chapter 12.

We're going to look at verse seven primarily.

Verse seven: to the dust also returned to the earth as it was and the spirit returned to Theos who gave it.

So when people die the dust the body returns to the earth, because we were made out of dirt, stone. And the spirit returns to God. It doesn't say the spirit returns to Heaven. God is not limited to just Heaven. God is on Pluto, God is on the moon, God is in Saturn, Jupiter, and all the different planets, the moon, solar systems, and galaxies. God is not limited to just a specific location that we call Heaven, but rather He exists throughout the entire universe.

That is how every person in every nation can pray to God if they so choose at the same time, and God can still hear each and every one of them. He's not limited in size or scope.

So to say that He returns that our spirit returns to God doesn't necessarily does not absolutely does not mean that we go to Heaven, but rather there are verses that talk about the soul being connected with the the grave. This is not soul here, this is spirit, this is breath, this is wind, that is the part that even the wicked people share. And they don't go to Heaven, right. The wicked people don't go to Heaven. The wicked people will never go to Heaven ever ever ever ever, nor even paradise either. So this is the breath of life returning to God, not the psyche, not your intelligence, not your knowledge, not your personality, not who you really are, but only the breath returning back to God, which is everywhere. So your air goes back to the air, your air goes back into the air because God is there.

But when I looked up the word grave in connection with spirit, pneuma, the word Greek words for spirit pneuma it appears in that combination the word grave and spirit or pneuma zero times in the Bible. Zero. The Bible never connects the spirit with the grave. But rather your spirit departs from your body it doesn't even go near the grave wherever you die at your spirit goes back into the air to God, but is not connected with the grave. Your spirit the breath of life never goes to the grave. The breath of life never goes to the grave.

It departs from your body in the hospital or at home or at a car wreck,

But if you look at the word grave in connection with the word psyche — psyche, your personality, yes it does appear in the Bible. It appears in the Bible eight times in the New American Standard Bible and five times in the King James Version so it's very interesting that psyche is connected with being present at the grave. In the same verse when I'm looking in this very same verse where the two words appear in the same verse this is what I'm talking about appears five to eight times.

So the Bible talks about that your psyche your mind who you really are being in connection with the location of the grave.

But we also know that the Bible says that we sleep in the grave.

Ecclesiastes let's see if we can find that verse uh what chapter chapter 5 verse 10 maybe no not verse 10 here it is chapter 9 verse 5

Ecclesiastes 9 verse 5: for the living will know that they will die but the dead know nothing. They do not know anything for there is no longer any reward for them for their memory is lost.

Remember your psyche is your memory your knowledge your understanding and so that is not living in Heaven or Hell either one when you die, according to the Bible right here.

You either believe this verse or you don't believe this verse. Which is it? Do you choose to believe what the Bible says or do you choose to not believe what the Bible says? It's very simple. The living know that we shall die but the dead do not know anything. Therefore your memory your psyche goes to sleep. And you can look that up, the dead people sleeping in the Bible appears over and over and over countless times. Just over and over and over and over and over and over tons and tons of times throughout the Bible that it says that the dead people are sleeping. That is the psyche sleeping. The spirit never sleeps. Oxygen never sleeps. The wind does not sleep. Air does not sleep. God does not sleep. His presence, His spirit does not sleep. But the psyche the soul does sleep every night and at death. The psyche sleeps until the resurrection

And Jesus and the apostles and the prophets all of them taught soul sleep until the resurrections. They never ever ever mentioned the dead being tortured never ever ever ever it's very simple very simple and

Genesis talks about the separation of soul — soul and spirit as well

I think we could look at some of those examples of genesis chapter one

Genesis one verse two: Thereafter the earth became vain waste and darkness came upon the surface of the deep, and thereafter the Spirit of the Theos brooded over the surface of the waters. Amen. So the Spirit of Theos is the pneuma — a spirit of — the pneuma of God the breath of God.

then the fields say let the waters teem with the swarms of living creatures and let birds fly above the earth and in the open expanse of the heavens, it means of the skies. In the Greek here in verse 20 the word psyche in the Greek Septuagint is used here I believe it's for either either word living or creatures here.

Either the word living or the word creatures or maybe both as one Greek word.

Some words in there is the word psyche. Let me see, yeah, the word psyche is their soul so teeming with the swarms of souls or living souls.

So the animals have souls and are called souls amen even birds can love amen and have memory amen even the birds can sing praises to God amen. Praise God. And there's many other examples throughout the Old Testament as well

Now we can apply this also for the difference between The Holy Spirit and The Holy Ghost.

Even though in the Greek New Testament it does not use the two different words here that we're talking about Greek pneuma and psyche it does not use those two different words in those two different phrases, Holy Spirit and Holy Ghost.

Nevertheless we can apply the two different words in the definition of the difference between The Holy Spirit and The Holy Ghost.

A lot of people think are the same thing but they're not it is the same Greek word pneuma it is the same Greek word but the same is true even in English and Aramaic and Hebrew and Greek and all different languages, Chinese and so forth, that there's a lot of different words that have different definitions. Amen. So the context can determine that the same Greek word in different verses even within the same verse has different meanings.

So all these people that are saying it's the same Greek word therefore it's the same thing that doesn't necessarily hold water.

If the context determines a difference and we know that the Bible says in John seven: At the Feast of Tabernacles at The Last Great Day, Jesus stood up and he was reading from Isaiah and He stood up and He said this in John seven verse 38:

"He who commits to me, as the scripture said, 'From his innermost being will flow rivers of living water.'" But this he spoke of the spirit — the pneuma — from whom those who commit to Him were to receive, for the ghost — the pneuma — was not yet given because Jesus was not yet glorified.

So it's the same Greek word both ghost and spirit here in verse 39.

But the context absolutely demands a different definition of the same Greek word because it says that He was not speaking of the pneuma, but rather he was speaking of the pneuma.

Yeah that's what it says: He was not speaking of the pneuma, but rather he was speaking of the pneuma.

So it demands a different definition even if it's the same Greek word so here we can use the difference between psyche and pneuma to define the difference between Holy Ghost and Holy Spirit, as I said. Pneuma the spirit is everywhere, even within wicked people and animals and trees, anything that has life. But the psyche is individual to each person and is also of course present in all animals and humans, but not present in trees. But nevertheless is more specific to the person, whereas the spirit is shared — sharing the same breath, the same oxygen. We're all breathing the same air. So if we apply the differences between those two Greek words to The Holy Spirit and Holy Ghost then we can say that The Holy Spirit is one spirit throughout the entire universe that everybody and every living thing shares, whether they have a psyche or not. But The Holy Ghost is specific to the soul of God, the part of God that came into the human flesh and was the psyche of the man Jesus who died on the cross. Of course we know that He's God as well, but I'm saying the man part of Jesus, his own individual psyche, his own individual soul that made him distinct from Matthew Mark Luke and John — other than the fact that He was God — that part his soul that died on the cross and rose again from the dead.

So we choose that we the word Ghost to make the distinction between the spirit that exists in all things and the part of God, the measure of God that died on the cross and rose from the dead. That has nothing to do with Pluto, right. Amen. So that part of God, that measure of God that came through Mary and came through the flesh — the son of mankind. That's why sometimes the Bible calls Him the son of God and other times it calls Him the son of mankind. Amen.

So the son of God would be The Holy Spirit and the spirit God but the son of man would be the psyche, it would be the soul of Jesus, it would be The Holy Ghost. The son of mankind is The Holy Ghost. Amen.

So there's a difference even though it uses the same Greek word. And it never uses the difference between pneuma and psyche referring to the difference between Holy Spirit and Holy Ghost. I'm just saying that we can use the difference between pneuma and psyche to define the difference between Holy Ghost and Holy Spirit. I'm not saying that the Bible uses the difference between the two Greek words to define Holy Ghost and Holy Spirit, but rather we can use those words to define the difference. That's what I'm saying. Amen.

Now we can also apply this toward the energy of the body the energy of the flesh not just your mind and your memory and your knowledge and your free will but we can also apply this toward your plasma energy aura, where they can see your colors. Some people do have the ability it is not a lie, it's not fake. Sometimes of course they lie and then it's fake, but there is a real existence of a spiritual gift that some people can see the colors of your aura. How do you spell that? A-U-R-A, aura. Some people can see the color of your aura, that would be your plasma that energy radiating from your body and the energy that exists in you but also radiates.

We are electrical creatures we are spiritual creatures we are spirits and we are psyches. We have plasma. Now the wind, the breath, is a form of plasma, and that is a measurable thing they can measure your oxygen inside your blood and you can breathe on your hands and feel the breath of air. So there is the measurable breath, spirit, and then there is the part that's not measurable, the psyche.

The mind is not measurable but it's the more inner person the more hidden person okay the chakra there is at least seven chakras main chakras and that's not just Hinduism or Buddhism. A lot of people think that if you believe in a chakra if you believe in the seven chakras the white the purple the blue the red the orange the yellow so forth, they think if you believe in that and if you teach that then you're a new age false Christian you're a witch you're a Hindu you're dwelling in demonic spirits and all that. That's what most Christians think because they are programmed and brainwashed to not even think objectively to not even consider anything outside of your pastor's teaching not even consider anything outside of your defined programmed religion denomination.

So your majority of Christians would say oh that's witchcraft or Hinduism and demonic spirits.

But if we think objectively and outside the programmed box of religion of your specific religion of your specific family and specific culture and location, and look at the entire universe and all humans and all humanity and everything that exists, then yes, we can discover the existence of the auras and the chakras. We can discover the existence of energy both measurable and immeasurable and how they relate to your health and your mentality your mental health and your physical health, absolutely, absolutely.

Now it's very interesting that the Fiesta of Tabernacles a few years back I'm sure my wife could tell you exactly which year that we were down there next to that highway at the feast of tabernacles. What year was that? All right, 2019.

I was feeling like I was going to have a heart attack. At the time I did not have clogged arteries, as far as I know, but just overworked exhaustion from the ministry stress different things whatever it was and electrical energy internet frequencies, so forth.

I did not really understand what was happening to me I felt awful and we went to a store we saw on the side of the road where it was a survival store selling survival supplies.

That's very interesting to us. So we stopped went went inside and one of the things they were selling was the shungite stones. And I bought one and learned about it. And shungite is a stone found in Russia, a natural mineral, carbon, and the Russian government uses it for many different things. They use it in the hospitals, the doctors use it for physical health for people, the Russian people put it in their waters to get rid of the radiation because there's a lot of radiation nuclear leaks in Russia continually, Chernobyl being the most famous, and Chernobyl is still poisonous to this day, and other radioactive leaks continually in the nation of Russia.

And they filter their water to get rid of the radiation out of the water and they put it in their homes, the Russian people do. They know it works, it is scientifically proven, it is scientifically accepted by the medical establishment in Russia and the government of Russia. It is knowledge. It is fact.

And sometimes they even have rooms made out of shungite the mineral the stone for people to go inside of to decontaminate them from a nuclear accident and so forth.

So learn about the shungite. And I didn't know much about it on that first night that I bought it but I put on the necklace made out of shungite and the next day I felt better and in fact that same night I slept better than I had in a long time. That's not my imagination, that's not coincidence. It made a huge change huge huge change in how I how I felt, amen.

And then from that experience I started you know I thought well if shungite being one stone one mineral can help people can help heal people then there must be other stones as well.

And so I started researching other stones and found out the healing qualities of quartz and a stone called the bloodstone and many other, and amethyst, and many other stones, copper, even the pennies in your pocket, if you lay them on your body can bring healing to you. So forth. Silver, silver coins, so on gold other things.

It's no different from calcium, no different from needing the iron in your food. We need iron and copper and calcium, which is stone, is a mineral in our food, but if you lay it on your skin you think, well it's not going to do anything, you think.

But the reality is that our who we are physically and spiritually is more than the eye knows.

You might not be able to see your aura and your chakras, but some people can.

And it has even been seen and measured even supposedly by certain types of electrical equipment that could even see your chakras and auras.

So your body radiates at least several inches out of your body. So when you lay something on your skin you may think that's the top of who you are but in reality your essence, what you are made of and what is part of you, extends out several inches from you, so that so that the stone that is laying on your body on your flesh is actually several inches deep inside of your energy. Amen.

So it's very interesting that this comes back at this particular junction of time, because I was using the bloodstone on my leg for my clogged artery.

And I also did molasses and apple cider vinegar and cayenne red pepper and other things as well.

So many times with natural remedies and natural health it's not just one thing.

Many times you need to use a approach of using multiple herbs and multiple things.

And I was using the bloodstone with this in conjunction with prayer and faith and endurance and perseverance, but the bloodstone laying on my leg on the spot of the clot or clogged artery rather did give me physical relief at times when it was laying there.

Previously before I even had this situation with the clogged arteries I have a cyst in my arm that sometimes would hurt and I would lay a bloodstone on that that's how I found out that the bloodstone works for me.

I would lay it on that cyst when it was hurting and the pain would instantly go away, immediately. I'm talking immediately, as soon as I laid it there.

Then I would take the stone off my arm and the pain would return, then I would put it back and the pain would go away.

And I would lift it off and the pain would come back and I would take the bloodstone off and the pain I would lift it off and the pain would come back, back and forth.

And this doesn't work for everybody because everybody's different and some people need more iron or more calcium and some people don't need iron as much as other people but what you may be deficient in is magnesium or whatever or whatever or manganese, another metal. Amen.

So, a bloodstone may not do the same thing to you because it depends upon what your individual body and psyche and soul and aura and chakra needs.

What are you scientifically deficient in that you need and what is the specific cause of your illness as well?

All right.

So I'm going to type in how you spell shungite.

S-H-U-N-G-I-T-E, right?

And so we already have an article, it's been there ever since 2019.

So I'm going to type in the website article name where you can learn about this.

And that is isawthelightministries.com/crystals.html and it will tell you about the shungite.

And so it's very interesting that this comes full circle because it was probably, I don't know, a week ago or over a week ago, I don't know how long it's been or maybe two weeks ago that God put this on my mind that I need to do a sermon on the difference between the soul and the spirit, but I made no connection at that time when that came into my mind and then I wrote that down.

It made no connection to me at that time yet with the chakras and my health is just that God said you need to do a sermon on the difference between the soul and the spirit that they are two different things.

I made no connection to the chakra or my physical health at that time that I can remember of.

But yet when I started actually getting ready to work on the sermon and actually start putting the sermon together and I wanted to go back to a previous sermon from years ago of where I taught the difference between the soul and the spirit and wanted to go back and review those notes to bring up a new sermon on the same topic again, I discovered that it was the sermon about discovering shungite and learning about the chakras.

So it comes full circle to me, I didn't make the connection until I was looking for what did I say before about this and saw the connection at that point.

So it does come back full circle.

It's very interesting to me because people need to know the natural remedies, not only the herbs and the spices and the foods that you need to eat and exercise and prayer and faith, but also we need to use the healing stones that God created for our health.

We know for a fact you can go to the store and buy a copper bracelet for your arthritis.

People with arthritis, I've known a lot of different people to go and buy a copper bracelet in the store and would put it on and it worked for them.

If a copper bracelet can help a lot of different people with their arthritis just by putting it on the skin, wearing the bracelet, then so can a bloodstone or a shungite or other stones, minerals.

The prophets of the Old Testament, I'm sure used these different things.

Stones are around the throne of God, different stones, different precious stones are around the throne of God.

God doesn't look at these stones as being involved in Hinduism and Buddhism and paganism and witchcraft.

God has these stones around his throne.

God himself has stones at his throne and New Jerusalem will have stones all over the place.

But God does not look at these stones and say, oh, I don't want them near my throne,

I don't want them in paradise, I don't want them in New Jerusalem because they're Hinduism, they're witchcraft, they're New Age, no, God approves of these, God made these.

These stones existed before witchcraft was ever even invented, amen.

These stones existed and were created by God for your healing before witchcraft even existed.

Just because the witches and the Hindus have corrupted it or abused it or used it for their own good doesn't make it evil itself.

They're just not giving God the glory.

But there's nothing wrong with the stones for healing.

If we can use a copper bracelet for our arthritis without that being witchcraft, then we can also lay a shungite or a bloodstone on our body without it being witchcraft, amen.

It's just the same as using natural herbs.

So you can read more about the chakras, the energy points of the body and how to use that for your health at isawthelightministries.com/crystals.html and we also have the other article isawthelightministries.com/chakras.html and that is also a link, both of those two articles link to one another.

And I would encourage people that if you have not yet read every article on the website, every article on the website, I would encourage you to take the time, of course it's going to take a long time, but I would encourage you to take time to just go right down the entire menu, all the navigational menus on the website and read maybe one article a day. Some of the articles are very short, some of them are very long, but you could read the short ones in a day's time, you could read a long one over two days or three days, read part of it, then stop, then read the next part of it the second day, then stop, read the third part and split up a very long article over three days.

Just because a article may be extremely long doesn't make it unnecessary to read.

You will need to be not lazy, amen.

These articles are very important, every word on the website is very important.

So I encourage everyone to read everything on the website and so many people just breeze through it, just skim through it instead of reading it, you might as well not even skim it because when you just skim it, you're only going to get only the skin of what it is.

You're not going to get the detail, you're not going to get the full understanding.

So many people do this over and over and now I would ask somebody, did you read the baptism article?

And they say yeah, and I would ask them a question from the baptism article and they don't know the answer, which I already knew they wouldn't know the answer because what they had already said, if they had read the article in detail, every word of the article, they wouldn't be asking me the question that they're already asking me.

And this is person after person after person after person after person after person that are saying, I read it when they only skimmed it, that's not reading.

Please, please read the articles and there's a reason why it's long is because there's a lot of important details.

It's not just that I'm long winded and I just like to write, but rather because there are a lot of important details and we need to understand things on a deep level so that when we are witnessing to our families and friends and they ask us questions, that we would be prepared to answer their questions because of course they're going to test us. Amen.

They should test us.

And the Bible says that we need to be able and willing to give account for what we believe.

We should not require people to just blindly believe what we tell them, but rather we should want them to question us and test us just as you as you question me and test me.

And just as I question you and test you, we need to prove all things and get out of the pattern and escape from the pattern of blindly embracing things.

If we did not blindly embrace the truth, then we should not want our families either and our friends, people we witness to, we should not want them to blindly just say, oh, okay, you said it, it must be true.

We need to give them the details, the exact scriptures, the exact points, the exact principles of why something is true.

So if you read an article in detail, then you'll be able to answer the tough questions on your own.

Amen.

And for some of these very long articles, it might help to print them and read through them with a pen and a highlighter.

Amen. Good point.

Brother Jared recommends for that very long articles, you could print it to where you can read it actually easier and be able to underline things and highlight certain things and circle certain things as an excellent point.

And I would recommend printing the articles for your family and friends that you witness to that are the most skeptical, that are the most rebellious because they go on the website and just really not read it. But there are a lot of people that would read it if they have it in print.

There are a lot of people that are more likely to read something in print than they would a website.

So that option should be there for you to think about that option for certain people.

We also have not only we have the articles, but we have Bible studies that you can print out for free from the website.

We have one page flyers and two page flyers where we have taken subjects like the sacred name.

What is the name of God?

We've taken a very long article and condensed it down to just the front and back of one page as a flyer that you could print out and give to your family and friends that are caught up in the deception of the letter Y names, Yahshua and Yahweh, which are not Hebrew names at all, but Assyrian names.

You can give them the one page flyer front and back of one page and it be very concise and very condensed to introduce them, to introduce them into having an open mind and thinking objectively and examining things and examining the evidence.

And then if they want more details, then they can go to the longer article on the website and that.

Is there any questions about anything I have said today?

Chat room is open for the people that are registered and signed in.

Please visit the ministry website at I saw the light ministries dot com.

We're not associated with any denomination.

We believe in studying the Bible and praying and fasting and seeking the Lord about what the truth really is and looking at both sides of the story and really getting deep in the word of God to see what the truth really is.

Most people, if they were born in India, they would be Hindu.

If they were born in China, there would be either atheists or Buddhists.

If they were born in Utah or near Utah, they would be a Mormon.

If they were born in the southern United States, they would be a Baptist person.

If they're born in the northern United States or in the western states, there would be a Catholic and so on and so on.

If you're born in the Middle East, most of those nations, you would be a Muslim.

If you were born in Israel, you may be a Jew and so on and so on and so on.

And that's not the way it should be.

And if you were born in a certain region and your family and your parents and your society and your culture believed in a specific religion, how would you ever know you were deceived?

We apply this as a person in the western society, America and Western Europe.

We think of the Middle East and the Hindu nations, we think of them as being weird, but they also look at us and think we're weird.

If you're born into a culture, a religion, a programmed mindset, how do you know that you're deceived or that you're correct without examining the possibilities and both sides of the story?

Why do they believe that?

Why do they say that?

And dig deep and objectively, seeking out the truth, not what you want to believe like everybody does, but what is really the truth?

That is what this ministry is about.

So I encourage you to check out the website if you've not yet done so.

And even if you have done so, it would be good even if you have read all the articles to go back and read them again.

And people need to stop using excuses, I don't have time.

When they watch TV for five hours or eight hours or other luxuries of life and so many different ways people waste time, video games and football and so many different ways that people waste time and then say, I ain't got time to read the Bible, I ain't got time to study, I ain't got time to ask the difficult questions and to study deep, I ain't got time to read the article.

Just excuses, excuses, excuses.

If you want the truth, seek it.

Seek the truth and you shall find.

Amen.

OK, so I don't see any questions in the chat room.

Brother Jared, you got anything else?

I still need to upload the transcript from yesterday's sermon because yesterday was the first day of the ninth biblical month.

So we had services yesterday that's already been transcribed, but I've got to upload the transcription in Russian and Spanish and English.

So I will get those uploaded today as well as as well as working on the transcription of today's sermon as well.

OK, I believe that covers it.

So thank you, everybody, for your patience with me.

Thank you for listening.

And if you are obedient unto the Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, he will bless you in absolutely mind boggling, amazing ways.
